

Too Much Talk. Little Progress Is Displeasing To Marshall

Moscow, March 27 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall was reported today deeply displeased with the lack of progress in the Council of Foreign Ministers deliberations on the German and Austrian treaties—and especially with last night's talk-filled session which accomplished nothing.

Criticism in the American delegation were aimed as much at the work of the four-power coordinating committee as at the tangle within the council itself.

The committee was supposed to have completed listing council agreements and disagreements Tuesday. American and British sources blame the failure to meet that deadline on deliberate efforts by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to wring concessions from the western powers even in this purely technical group.

Hope for agreement on the treaties during this conference faded as the council split all along the line on minor issues as well as major ones.

New Disagreement
Marshall, who is accustomed to getting things done in an orderly manner, was said by authoritative informants to feel strongly along the line of his comment that progress in the work here seemed "unfortunately remote."

While the western powers have set no deadline for their stay in Moscow, both British and American sources say they are hoping the windup of this first session of the council on the problem of Austria will come about April 15.

The foreign ministers' deputies working on the Austrian treaty, however, developed a disagreement today over arrangements for withdrawing Allied troops when the treaty becomes effective. Britain's deputy, Lord Hood, took the position that the Allied Control Council should be disbanded on the effective date of the treaty.

BULLETINS

Rio de Janeiro, March 27 (AP)—The Brazilian news agency Aspress quoted the Paraguayan rebel radio today as saying insurgent planes had bombed Puerto Rosario heavily, sinking rafts transporting loyalist troops and inflicting "great losses." There was no confirmation from any other source.

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Rep. Engel (R-Mich.), told the House today that the GOP-backed bill to slash income taxes by almost $4,000,000,000 "gives a man who made the biggest profits during the war the biggest tax relief." Engel, first Republican member to speak against the measure, repeated a statement that several wealthy men have threatened an attempt to oust him from Congress in next year's election, unless he changes his stand.

Rio de Janeiro, March 27 (AP)—Brazil ordered today the internment of Maj. Cesar Albino Aguirre, Paraguayan rebel leader who arrived here yesterday as "the first envoy of the revolution." He lacked a passport.

Moscow, March 27 (AP)—Under the impact of the three western nations' arguments, Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov retreated from his previous position and agreed tonight to consider a definition of German assets in Austria.

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Secretary of War Patterson asserted today that the administration's $400,000,000 measure to bulwark Greece and Turkey against Communism "is not in the direction of war—but away from it." His opinion was expressed to the House Foreign Affairs Committee which is conducting hearings on the proposal to send "limited" military missions, as well as money, to the Mediterranean countries.

Moscow, March 27 (AP)—Dr. Karl Gruber, Austrian foreign minister, conferred for 40 minutes today with Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and said afterward he was encouraged about the prospect of getting an Austrian peace treaty completed at the Moscow conference.

NO ACTION YET ON 2 VACANCIES IN POLICE FORCE

With six applications "unofficially" on file, examination of candidates for members of the borough police department will not be made until, after a formal, written request is received from the borough council, the new Civil Service commission said today, following a meeting held Wednesday night at the home of Harry J. Troxell, one of its members.

The commission met Wednesday night to re-organize, and chose Dr. Walter S. Mountain as chairman; H. J. Troxell vice chairman and N. B. Schnurman as secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting of the borough council is scheduled for April 7. Dr. Mountain said today that under the state law, appointment of policemen here would be limited to applicants who have been residents of the borough for at least one year. Of the applicants seeking the job "three or four" are not residents of the borough, Dr. Mountain said, and therefore will not be eligible for appointment.

Two Posts to Be Filled
"The law provides that the positions must be filled by persons who are residents of Gettysburg for at least one year," Dr. Mountain said, "unless there are no available local candidates."

He said that the civil service commission had been told of the vacancies in the police department working on the Austrian treaty, however, developed a disagreement today over arrangements for withdrawing Allied troops when the treaty becomes effective. Britain's deputy, Lord Hood, took the position that the Allied Control Council should be disbanded on the effective date of the treaty.

Vacancies in the Police department to be filled are those occasioned by the resignations of C. William Zhea and Clark W. Staley. The latter's becomes effective April 1.

Four new members were elected. They are Edgar L. Bowling, Robert T. Mehling, Earl Joseph Smith, and Robert W. Troxell.

Commander Eckenrode appointed William E. Knox as the representative of the post of the Advisory Health Council meeting, April 14, at the court house.

A committee of three was named to represent the post in an organizational meeting of a playground committee which will be held in the near future. Those named were: Fissel, Drach and Trostle.

Rescue Woman From Car Stalled On Rails

West Conshohocken, Pa., March 27 (AP)—A truck driver today rescued a dazed woman motorist a few seconds before her stalled automobile was demolished by a Reading railroad freight train.

Mildred Johnson, of Bridgeport, Pa., was on her way to work at the Lee Tire and Rubber company, Conshohocken, when her car crashed through a guard rail and stalled on the tracks.

The truck driver, who refused to give police his name, dragged her from the automobile to an embankment and then attempted to halt the train. The train crew, however, was unable to stop before the auto had been dragged 100 feet.

Miss Johnson was treated at a hospital for minor injuries.

Langley Collyer 'Presumed Dead'

New York, March 27 (AP)—Langley Collyer, the 61-year-old recluse whose disappearance after the death of his brother, Homer, 65, led to a search of his junk-packed house, is presumed by police to be dead.

The presumption is largely a legal one, because the hunt for the young brother still is under way in the jam-packed rooms of the three-story brownstone house on once fashionable upper Fifth avenue. Langley Collyer last was seen last Thursday, the day before his brother was found dead of heart disease at the house.

Police moved yesterday to clarify legal aspects of the search, which has necessitated removal of tons of junk from the house, after a Collyer relative protested that items of value were being discarded.

Wife, Babe Wait For Vet Trapped In Mine

Ministerium Planning 'Released Time' Bible Training; Backs Teacher Pay Raise; Going On DST

The Gettysburg ministerium has voted, after consultation with Dr. Lloyd C. Keefauver, superintendent of schools, to make plans for a community week-day Bible school to be held on the "released time" plan, officials of the ministerium announced today.

Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, the Rev. Howard Schley Fox, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Reformed church, and the Rev. Harold V. March, pastor of Memorial United Brethren church, were named to a committee to complete the arrangements for the school.

Under state law one hour of school time can be released each week for students to receive instruction in the religion of their choice, members of the ministerium pointed out today. Those students who take the Bible school class must have their parents' consent. Those students who do not take the religious study take additional work provided by the school. Such a program of religious instruction has been in progress at Arendtsville and in some other Adams county communities for some time, it was pointed out.

The Ministerium also voted to have a community vacation Bible school to be held at St. James Lutheran church, June 9 through June 20. The Rev. Floyd A. Carroll, pastor of the local Methodist church, was placed in charge of arrangements for the school.

Daylight saving time for church services was voted by the ministers who will conduct their services on "fast time" starting Sunday, April 27.

The Ministerium also went on record as favoring immediate action by the state in cooperation with the local school districts to make provision for more adequate salaries for teachers and staff members of the public school system.

The Ministerium announced that the community Good Friday service will be held at St. James Lutheran church from 1:30 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon, thus permitting the workers in those establishments closing for the three hours to attend the service.

From 1:30 to 2 o'clock Prof. Richard B. Shade will present an organ recital. The preacher for the service will be the Rev. Dr. E. Martin Grove, pastor of Bethlehem Lutheran church, Harrisburg.

The number of requests for information received by the "ag" editor reflects the very considerable interest shown in the column, "Things of the Soil," which appears daily in The Times, and its popularity with the readers of this newspaper. More and more persons are writing of the value they have received from this service.

"I wish to tell you how interested I have become in your column, 'Things of the Soil,' and what a help it has been," writes one reader of The Times. "My family moved from the city only a year ago and country life is very new to us, but we succeeded in getting through last summer's gardening even though we had a little difficulty; but even this would have been impossible without your help." the letter continues.

SAFETY GUIDES, SCHOOL PATROL TO MEET FRIDAY

All former safety guides and members of the school safety patrol were requested today by Borough Police Officer Albert L. Wolford to attend a meeting at the Lincoln school at 7 o'clock Friday night of the Junior Police. Wolford is adviser to the group.

Boys who will play ball with the Junior Police teams this summer will be measured for uniforms Friday night, Wolford said, and a checkup will be made of all equipment belonging to the patrol.

An appeal for baseball equipment was renewed today. The boys want old baseball gloves, bats, etc., which have been discarded by older players. Many of the boys, Wolford said, cannot afford to buy new equipment at present prices.

Seek Baseball Equipment
Persons having baseball equipment they are no longer using were asked again to telephone police headquarters, 673, or bring the equipment to the police office.

Also scheduled at Friday night's meeting is a regular session of the Junior Police court.

Attorney Donald M. Swope was the speaker Tuesday afternoon in the high school auditorium at a meeting of the grade school children of Lincoln, Meade, High Street and St. Francis Xavier schools.

Asks Public To Speak On Bill Barring DST

Harrisburg, March 27 (AP)—Expression of public sentiment on a bill to bar official action on daylight saving time was sought today by the measure's sponsor, Rep. Francis Worley.

He said the measure, which would prevent the passage of ordinances, resolutions or rules by official bodies on the fast time question, was reported out of committee with the aim of getting public reaction.

Urging letters on the subject to members of the General Assembly, Worley explained his measure would not "prevent anyone from going to work an hour earlier if they want to, but will bar official public from changing the clocks."

CHEMISTS TO MEET HERE

The Southeastern Pennsylvania Section of the American Chemical Society will meet in Gettysburg April 24 at which time Dr. C. E. Waring will speak on "Science Fights in Front Lines." Dr. J. B. Zinn is chairman of the program committee.

Herbert L. Humpert, 70, Upper County Farmer, Is Found Murdered In Barn

Herbert L. Humpert, 70, Gardner's R. 2, farmer, was found dead in the entry of his barn Wednesday evening about 4:45 o'clock.

Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist said following a post-mortem this morning that death was due to an intracranial hemorrhage caused by 17 wounds about the head.

Murder, he added, was definitely indicated. The time of death was tentatively set as Monday night.

There was no money found on the body of the bachelor who lived alone on his farm about a half mile northwest of Gardner's on the Peach Glen road. He was reported to be "worth about $30,000."

Autopsy Performed Today
State Policemen from the local sub-station and Harrisburg, District Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., and Coroner Crist were conducting the investigation. Heading the police detail were Sgt. W. K. Duhrkoff, Cpl. Lodwick Jenkins of the local sub-station and Detective R. O. Parsons of Harrisburg.

Chemists from the Harrisburg state police headquarters were due to arrive this afternoon to assist in the search for the person or persons who may have been responsible for the death.

Doctor Crist and Dr. C. Harold Johnson, performing the autopsy at the Routsong funeral home in Bendersville this morning, found a depressed fracture of the skull, 17 wounds in the scalp, four of which were so deep and wide that the skull could be seen through them.

See Indications Of Fight

Both of his eyes were "blackened," there was a deep cut under the right eye and a half-inch circle of flesh had been torn out of the left side of his face near the ear. His left ear was torn and his upper lip was torn in two places, one on each side of the jaw. The left lip cut was nearly an inch deep and the flesh had pulled back on each side. There was a cut across the bridge of his nose and the left side of his face was black and blue.

Both hands were cut, which Doctor Crist said may indicate that a fight had preceded death.

In an attempt to reconstruct the possible death scene, Doctor Crist said it was possible that Humpert had been defeated in a fist fight and then beaten over the head with a blunt instrument. No such instrument had been found up to noon today.

Humpert had lived alone for the past eight years, since the death of a sister, Emma Humpert.

No Motive Discovered
Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. William Byrnn, Carlisle; Mrs. Alfred Starnier, Gardner's R. 2; and Miss Maggie Humpert, Bonnybrook, and Mrs. Percy Gardner, Gardner's R. 1, whom Humpert and his sister raised.

Humpert was a son of the late Samuel and Susanna (Erb) Humpert, late of Adams county, and was a farmer all of his life. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

There appeared to be no motive for the apparent murder, according to information obtained up to noon today unless robbery may have entered into the picture. About ten years ago Humpert had been robbed of some money that was in a trunk at his house.

Doctor Crist said there will be an inquest but has not fixed the time.

Found By Neighbor
A neighbor, Spencer McKinney, discovered the body about 4:45 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinney, whose home is about 700 yards from the Humpert dwelling became worried when they did not notice Humpert about on Tuesday or Wednesday and saw no light at the Humpert home Tuesday night.

McKinney asked his wife to keep a sharp watch Wednesday and when she did not see the elderly farmer moving about he went in search of the man. McKinney found no one at the house and then saw Humpert's lantern and glasses lying about 35 feet from the barn. He went to the entry of the barn and pushed aside the door to enter. Near the end of the entry he saw a huddled shape.

Find Pool Of Blood
McKinney then notified other neighbors and went to Gardner's to ask Postmaster Grover Myers to call state police.

Coroner Crist, Corporal Jenkins and McKinney went to the barn upon the arrival of the investigating officers.

They found Humpert lying with his head against a post and with his body lying toward the back of the barn. Straw and ground pushed aside appeared to indicate that the man had scratched and kicked in an apparent attempt to raise himself and get out of the barn.

About five feet from the barn was a large pool of blood that had soaked into the ground. There were no apparent bloodstains for another 30 feet along the front of the barn. Just inside the entry there were blood markings on straw on the floor and more blood on a feed bin about three feet above the ground and on two burlap bags that were found between the entry and the place where the body was lying.

In Gettysburg Monday
Mrs. McKinney said she saw Humpert arrive at his home in a car Monday evening about 4 o'clock. She said she did not know who owned the car nor where Humpert had been.

District Attorney Yake said today that possibly the man was returning at that time from Yake's office. He had been to the district attorney's office sometime Monday, but when he found that the attorney was busy on another case out of the office, had left saying he would return Wednesday or today. He did not tell Mr. Yake's secretary Monday what his business with the attorney might be.

Good Evening
Cheer up folks, after March winds come April showers.

Neighbors said that Humpert's entire menu consisted of cornmeal mush, which they said, he made weekly and ate throughout the week. In the house today there was a large pot of mush, apparently part of his supply for the week.

Stove Poker Missing
Police said he apparently slept between two straw ticks rather than under blankets. Only the two ticks were found on his bed.

A search of the house today disclosed no apparent rifling of the structure. Papers were apparently in place, as were all other furnishings in the building.

The only article apparently missing was the poker. Two wood stoves were in the downstairs of the frame building, but no poker could be found by police during a preliminary search.

10 Clergymen To Share In Estate

Philadelphia, March 27 (AP)—Ten Lehigh Valley clergymen are to share in a $1,000 legacy left by Carl J. Sipple.

COURT ORDERS UNION TO END WORK STOPPAGE

Philadelphia, March 27 (AP)—Two common pleas court judges have ordered a local AFL-Drivers union to end a work stoppage that has virtually closed Philadelphia's $125,000,000-a-year wholesale produce market on Dock street since mid-January.

The jurists—Frank Smith and Eugene V. Alessandrini—in a preliminary injunction issued yesterday ordered Local 929, Produce, Fish, Poultry and Oysterman Drivers and Helpers union (AFL) to cease interfering with produce merchants and car-lot receivers in the area.

The injunction specifically ordered union officers to "rescind in writing, addressed to all the members of the local, all existing orders or directions to engage in a work stoppage in violation of the collective bargaining agreement." The injunction said the stoppage violated a union contract signed last December.

The dispute began over unionization of approximately 200 girl office employees and prompted a $1,500,000 damage suit filed by the merchants against the union. The damage suit is still pending in court.

The union, through its attorney William A. Gray, said "we believe that such a far-reaching order is contrary to the legal principles established by the appellate courts, and for that reason an immediate appeal will be taken to the supreme court in order to test the validity of the court's conclusions."

USE CORNCOBS TO MAKE NYLON

Oklahoma City, March 27 (AP)—Twelve years of research costing $1,000,000 has resulted in the development of a chemical process for use of agricultural by-products such as corn cobs in the manufacture of nylon.

Dr. Oliver W. Cass research chemist for E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Company, announced today.

Cass, in a speech to the National Farm Chemurgic council, disclosed that the use of the products, such as corn cobs, cotton seed hulls and the hulls of oat and rice bran, would give a supplemental supply of ingredients needed in the manufacture of nylon.

Nylon originally was derived only from the components of coal, air and water. Cass pointed out petroleum and natural gas are now used along with the coal and that the new development would be still another substitute.

Cass said that a new unit will be built at the Du Pont Electrochemicals Department's plant at Niagara Falls to produce the chemical.

British Constable Wounded By Bomb

Jerusalem, March 27 (AP)—A British constable was reported wounded in one leg today in a bomb attack on two police cars in front of the Tel Aviv divisional police headquarters.

An official announcement said the cars were just leaving the headquarters in the all-Jewish city on a morning patrol when they were the target of one bomb and a small-arm fire. The report added that three persons "believed to be Yemite Jews" were seen escaping toward the waterfront.

Tel Aviv residents were roused by two explosions last night which seemed to come from the Hatikva quarter, Yemite Jewish neighborhood.

Police, after ascertaining that no military installations had been under attack, offered the theory that the blasts might have occurred by accident in a mine factory of the Jewish underground.

VFW Asks Military Handling Of Atom

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars asked Congress today to restore atomic energy control to military authorities, interpreting President Truman's proposal to halt Communism in Greece and Turkey as an admission of international difficulties.

Louis E. Starr, VFW commander-in-chief, told the House Committee on Un-American Activities the proposal to aid Greece and Turkey is a "frank admission that all is not well on the international scene and that a challenge to democracy and freedom has again reared its ugly head."

He urged military control of atomic power "to warn the challengers of democracy everywhere that we mean business."

The VFW head differed with demands by the American Legion and AMVETS that the Communist party in this country be erased.

EARLY SPRING TIME TO SOW SWEET PEAS

Spring flowering type of sweet pea. In most of the United States, where spring comes late and its stay is brief, growing sweet peas is a race against hot weather. The gardener who would win should sow seeds early, and grow a heat resistant strain, which will bloom quickly and give him an abundant harvest before midsummer, with its searing heat.

A sweet pea which prefers heat is yet to be bred, but a heat resistant strain of the giant, vandy-petaled Spencer type known as the spring flowering strain is becoming popular. Many compare it in abundance of bloom and long flowering season with the old-fashioned grandiflora type, which used to be one of the most popular flowers in this country.

New Type Short-lived

When the Spencer sweet peas were developed, having waxy petals and much larger flowers, they were hailed with delight by American home gardeners. They soon discovered, however, that it took longer to bloom than the older strain; and in sections where spring was short and summer hot, it had a brief flowering season.

Early flowering Spencer varieties were then developed, which flowered a month to six weeks earlier than the late Spencer, but had fewer flowers, and bore them in sprays of three. These are widely used by florists for winter flowering.

The spring flowering strain blooms in between the early and late Spencer, but has four flowers to a cluster, and much more abundant bloom than the earliest varieties. Its ability to withstand hot weather is outstanding, being developed by careful breeding.

All sweet peas can be started indoors and transplanted to the garden; and in cold-winter sections the late Spencers should always be planted so far good results.

If sown direct in the garden, then all types should be planted just as soon as the ground can be prepared.

Spake Soil Deeply

The soil should be spaded one to two feet deep, preferably in the previous fall. Sweet peas demand rich feeding. At least a pint of balanced plant food should be spaded into the soil for each 25 foot row.

ASKS SENATE TO RESTORE SS CUT

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Undersecretary of Treasury A. L. M. Wiggins testified today that "satisfactory protection" cannot be given the President and his family unless the Senate restores the House-approved cut in Secret Service funds.

He told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee the 20 per cent slash in funds by the House will force a reduction in the special bodyguard protecting the White House and the President.

He said $757,600 has been cut from the $3,465,100 asked for the secret service during the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

Wiggins also protested the overall reduction of $882,716,750 in funds to operate the Treasury. He made these points:

1. The secret service cut also would be "an invitation to the counterfeiter to engage in widespread operations" since the service has to protect against counterfeiting of around $38,000,000,000 in currency now in circulation.
2. Unless Congress restores the full $2,031,000,000 for payment of income tax refunds, from which the House cut $800,000,000, there will be some 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 returns on hand by next March on which tax will have been overpaid.
3. The $30,000,000 reduction in funds for the Internal Revenue bureau will encourage tax evasion and prevent collection of at least $600,000,000 in revenue, since the bureau will be unable to continue checking "upon three returns out of every 100, as is now the case."

Guns Became Live Things As Grimy Handlers Fired In Drill-Like Precision

(Ed note: This is the fourth in a series of five articles prepared from a book published in 1890 by Augustus Buell, a member of a cannon company which fought at Gettysburg in 1863. The book describes the experiences of an enlisted man during the battle.)

The Confederates were attacking the battery of six guns located on both sides of the railroad cut along Seminary Ridge.

"Twenty-six years have but softened in memory the picture of 'Old Griff' Wallace, his tough Irish face set in hard lines with the unflinching resolution that filled his soul while he sponged and loaded under that murderous musketry with the precision of barrack drill," Buell wrote in 1890.

"Of the burly corporal, bareheaded, his hair matted with blood from a scalp wound, and wiping the crimson fluid out of his eyes to sight the gun; of the steady orderly sergeant, John Mitchell, moving calmly from gun to gun, now and then changing men about as one after another was hit and fell, stooping over a wounded man to help him up, or aiding another to stagger to the rear; of the dauntless Davidson on foot among the guns, cheering the men, praising this one and that one, and ever and anon profanely exhorting us to 'Feed it to 'em'—feed it to 'em'!"

Blood And Burnt Powder

"The very guns became things of life—not implements, but comrades. Every man was doing the work of two or three. At our gun at the finish there were only the corporal, No. 1 and No. 3 with two drivers fetching ammunition. The water in Pat's bucket was like ink. His face and hands were smeared all over with burnt powder. The thumbtall of No. 3 was burned to a crisp by the hot vent-fine. Between the black of the burnt powder and the crimson streaks from his bloody head, Packard looked like a demon from Packer."

"Up and down the line men reeling and falling; splinters flying from wheels and axles where bullets hit; in rear, horses tearing and plunging, mad with wounds and terror; drivers yelling, shells bursting, shot shrieking overhead, howling about our ears or throwing up great clouds of dust where they struck; the musketry crashing on three sides of us; bullets hissing, humming and whistling everywhere; cannon roaring; all crash on crash and peal on peal, smoke, dust, splinters, blood, wreck and carnage indescribable."

"And out in front of us an undulating field, filled almost as far as the eye could reach with a long, low gray line creeping toward us, fairly firing with flame!"

Courage And Carnage

"On every side the passion, rage and frenzy of fearless men or reckless boys devoted to slaughter or doomed to death! The same sun that a day before had been shining to cure the wheat-sheaves of the harvest of peace, now glared to pierce the gray pall of battle's powder smoke or to blot the corpses of battle's victims."

"When this desperate work began I had stood close in to the gun in thumbing vent, standing bolt upright according to the letter of the manual, arching my left arm and resting my fingers on the gun. I was wearing my jacket and had the two top buttons buttoned. About our third load a bullet from the enemy behind the fence on our flank tore through the breast of the jacket, making the cloth fly and carrying away the second button from the top. It hurt like the sharp blow of

Move To Tighten Mine Safety Rules

Harrisburg, March 27 (AP)—Moving to tighten up mine safety laws, Rep. Harold E. Plack (R-Luzerne) proposed today legislation to halt hard coal mining within 100 feet of abandoned mines that are inaccessible to state mine inspectors.

Aimed particularly at preventing mine explosions similar to that which killed 15 men at the Nottingham colliery, near Plymouth, last January, the proposed law would require designation of the "stop point" on maps of underground workings.

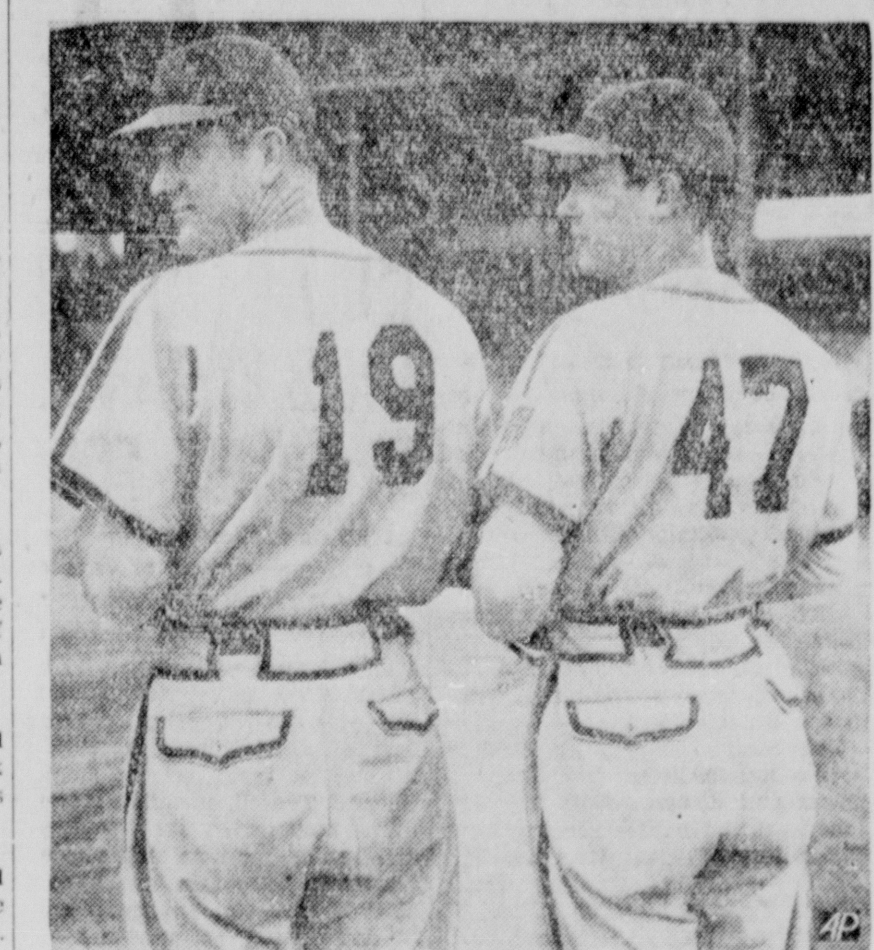

Plack said the measure was requested by the state Mines Department which recently said an inaccurate map resulted in the mining of coal too near an abandoned mine which proved to be gaseous.

He also offered legislation to require weekly inspections of underground workings suspected of approaching gaseous areas.

pital, and we prolonged 'Old Betsy' the rear gun—in the street and stood by to load. John said he was afraid that the Old Man had been gobbled up, but we would wait there a few minutes so as to be able to help him, if necessary. But in a few minutes Johnny Cock came down the road and said that McBride was coming with all of the right half-battery, and that Stewart would soon be along.

"I was astonished by the caution of the enemy at this time. He seemed to be utterly paralyzed at the punishment he had received from the First Corps and was literally feeling every inch of his way in his advance on our front. Riding the swing team on our gun, I kept looking over my shoulder to see him come on, and wondered why he was so cautious, knowing, as I did, that none of our troops were left in the position we had just abandoned.

If you ever visit Jeb Crowell's farm, he'll take you right out on that back porch of his and show you his apple tree.

"There," says Jeb, "is nature's noblest creation—fifty years, and bearing still the finest cider apples in the county!"

But last fall, when a group of us was there, Lud Denny points across the river to his grain fields and says: "There's an even finer sight! Acres and acres of golden grain you can make dozens of appetizing things with—including wholesome, sparkling beer."

Both of them got so eloquent on the subject, that the rest of us worked up quite a thirst; so Jeb goes to the icebox for beer and cider. And when the refreshments come, Lud chooses cider, and Jeb takes the beer!

From where I sit, that's the answer to most disputes. You can talk all you want, but when it comes to tastes and preferences, there's just no argument.

ALLENTOWN HAS VICTORY RECORD WITHIN GRASP

By TOM SHRIVER

Harrisburg, March 27 (AP)—Allentown high's high-flying Canaries need one more victory to equal the record for consecutive state championships in Pennsylvania, and on Saturday night the proteges of Coach J. Birney Crum meet Duquesne high at Penn's Palestra with that objective in mind.

Allentown needs a win over the "Dukes" to equal the record set by Lower Merion in 1941, '42 and '43, and the Canaries are depending on two established stars and three newcomers to carry them to the pinnacle of Pennsylvania scholastic basketball.

In meeting Duquesne the Canaries will be facing one of the strongest teams in state ranks, a team that was good enough to win the western title at the expense of a sturdy band of Bradford Owls.

Wanish And Jackson
Crum will rely for victory on two boys who have carried the Canaries to two straight state titles and three consecutive eastern championships.

At center will be William "Bill" Wanish, who was named as all-state center in his sophomore year and now as a senior is rated as one of the finest pivot men in the commonwealth.

At forward will be Elmo "Willie" Jackson, sensational Negro forward, and the player who rushed back into the contest to save Allentown's title hopes in the game against Catawauqua. He tallied the needed field goals that turned impending defeat into a well deserved victory.

These two players will carry the brunt of the Allentown attack, but Coach Crum will depend on several other players to retain the crown that was won first in 1945 and retained in 1946.

Home Floor
In meeting Duquesne the Canaries will be up against a team that has tasted the fruits of victory in the past and a combination that will be anxious to break the hold the east has had on the state championship for five of the past six years.

It was Duquesne that displaced Lower Merion as state champions in 1944 after Coach Bill Anderson's five had chalked up championships for three straight years. It was Duquesne that bowed to Lower Merion in the 1941 finals and now the "Dukes" will be in the state finals for the third time in six years and ready to challenge Allentown's right to the state diadem.

Coach Crum's five will have a decided advantage over the western title-holders since this will be the sixth time during the present season that the Canaries have played on the Palestra floor.

Training Camp Briefs

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Connie Mack said today that Eddie Joost is the best shortstop the Philadelphia Athletics have had since Joe Boley cavorted for the A's back in the pennant-winning days of the late 20's and early 30's.

"He's a good, hustling player," observed the venerable pilot, "and smart." He recalled that when Joost backed up the third baseman the other day and took a hit off his glove for a putout to first, he made a play "we hadn't seen since Chick Galloway and Boley."

Galloway played shortstop for Philadelphia before Boley came on the scene.

"Joost is quick and agile. He stops sharply enough after his initial charge to get 10 or 12 feet in front of the ball and get set for the scoop," Mack pointed out.

Miami Beach, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Billy Herman, Jr., has gone to the Minors at his father's bidding. The other was Dewey Soriano, righthander shipped to Indianapolis on option. At the same time, the Braves acquired Lou Tost from the Cubs for slightly more than the $10,000 waiver price.

To Decide Class B Title On Tuesday

Pittsburgh, March 27 (AP)—Irwin high school of Westmoreland county and Weatherly high of Carbon county will meet here next Tuesday to decide the Class B basketball championship of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association.

The fast-moving Irwin Knights, coached by Don Rose, won the Western regional title last night by interrupting a 24-game winning streak of Karns City high, 44-38. Weatherly fought its way into the Eastern regional championship by a 37-32 win over Wyoming high.

There was little to choose from between Irwin and the Karns City Gremlins at the beginning of their game. The score was tied three times in the first before Irwin pulled ahead to a substantial lead which it built up to 29-15 at half-time. Karns City outscored Irwin in both the final quarters, recovering eight points of the margin, but at no time threatened to overhaul the Knights.

What's more, she produced pictures of a handsome guy who'd have bobby sox fans swooning all over the place and evidence that he had learned basketball from an American coach at the American university in Athens and that last year he was named Greece's greatest player. . . . ## Score Coach Method Of Picking Team

Philadelphia, March 27 (AP)—Josh Cody, Temple University basketball coach, says a new method is needed in selecting the National Collegiate Athletic association district two representative in the post-season court tourney.

Cody, speaking at a meeting of the local Basketball Writers association honoring the Philadelphia district's outstanding collegiate player, voiced concern over the present method of nominating the district two participant "because it isn't always fair."

The Temple mentor said the present setup—a committee of three coaches selects the district two quintet—is handled as well as can be expected. "However, a playoff within the district of the area's four or even eight best teams would be a fairer method of designation," Cody declared. "It would remove the pressure of partiality from the selecting committee."

To Decide Catholic Court Title Tonight

Pittsburgh, March 27 (AP)—Pennsylvania's Catholic high school basketball championship will be decided here tonight in a Class A game between North Catholic high of Pittsburgh, defending titlist, and Philadelphia's St. Joseph.

North high, which defeated Allentown Catholic to win the championship last year, has had a tough season generally but regained top form in the last few weeks to win western honors.

The Pittsburghers eliminated Johnstown Catholic in the Western regional finals of the Pennsylvania Catholic Interscholastic association while St. Joseph was defeating Harrisburg for the Eastern crown.

Cambridge, Mass., March 27 (AP)—Harvard university may have a one armed boxing champion.

Tommy Rodgers of Pittsburgh, who lost his left arm in a railroad accident, won his semifinal bout in the 155 pound class in the first post-war university tourney last night.

The judges unanimously decided in favor of Rodgers over Jim Lord.

His affliction forces him to fight from a southpaw stance and Tommy thinks that's to his advantage. "It puts the other fellows off balance. Most of them are righthanders," he says.

Tommy's coach is Tommy Rawson, Jr., a boxing referee who admires Rodgers for his unquestionable courage.

"He can't protect himself very well," said Rawson. "But he moves to his right after throwing a punch. When he punches he leaves himself open but that crab-like movement of his takes him out of range pretty well."

SNOWSTORM IS HEADING EAST

(By The Associated Press)
A new snowstorm moved rapidly eastward today from eastern Oklahoma toward the Hatteras region of the Atlantic coast where weather bureau forecasters at Chicago said it would center Friday morning.

By late morning, it was snowing over a general area between eastern Kansas and southeastern Nebraska on the west to central Kentucky and northern Tennessee.

The St. Louis area reported six inches of snow had fallen at 6 a. m. (CST), and accumulations of up to four inches were reported in southern Illinois and southwestern Indiana.

The violent wind and snowstorm which earlier this week spread over the eastern half of the country causing widespread property damage and at least 16 deaths, moved into northern Quebec today.

Winds had diminished, but temperatures dropped, Caribou, Me., reporting the nation's minimum of one above zero last night.

KEGLERS OPEN SHOW TONIGHT

Los Angeles, March 27 (AP)—The American Bowling congress, annual big show of the nation's keglers, gets underway tonight for the first time west of the Rockies, with a host of dignitaries invited to participate in the launching ceremony of the 47-day tournament.

The National Guard army in Exposition park, next door neighbor of Los Angeles' huge Olympic games stadium, the coliseum, was redecorated for the event in a Spanish motif, and, according to ABC custom, 36 new alleys were installed.

Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce officials, sponsoring the tournament, toned down previous entry and prize money figures. It appeared that entries would be nearer 17,000 than 18,000, and prize money will amount to $214,732 instead of the previous quarter-million dollar estimate.

A total of 491 cities are represented in the entries. California as the host state naturally sent in the largest number of five-man teams, 2,259, but the mid-west, the nation's stronghold of bowlers, otherwise dominated the field. Ohio will send 135 teams, Illinois 106 and Michigan 100 and New York 90. Total teams entered were 3,356. The 1940 tournament at Detroit brought a record 6,073 teams.

The tournament ends May 12.

Hog Supplies Cut Prices At Chicago

Chicago, March 27 (AP)—Hog supplies, which had backed up on farms most of this week because of storm conditions, reached the Chicago terminal in large volume today and dropped prices $1.00 to $1.50 a hundred pounds live weight.

Total receipts of 18,000 head, evenly split between salables and those consigned direct to packing houses, were the largest since February 11. Prices promptly slumped at the opening to $26.75 and $27.00, the latter early top price comparing with a top of $28.50 yesterday.

Receipts at other terminals were about normal.

WOULD OUTLAW DISCRIMINATION AGAINST RACES

Harrisburg, March 27 (AP)—Discrimination in employment because of race, creed, color or national origin would become unlawful in Pennsylvania under a bill in the legislature today.

The legislation, incorporating the pledges of the GOP campaign platform, has the complete support of Governor Duff, GOP leaders indicated.

A five-man Fair Employment Practices commission would be established with powers, subject to court review, to impose penalties of up to $1,000 in fines and one-year prison terms for discrimination violations.

The scope of the measure, patterned after the New York law, includes discrimination by employers, employment agencies, labor organizations, schools and in newspaper advertisements.

Five Jobs At $10,000
Commission members, appointed by the governor, would receive $10,000 a year.

Other House bills would: Abolish the Post-war Planning commission and transfer its duties to the State Planning board—Joseph A. Dague (R-Clearfield) and Samuel B. Dennison (R-Jefferson).

Abolish the Allegheny county court, transfer its jurisdiction to the county common pleas and quarter sessions court—T. Emmett Horan (R-Allegheny).

Real Estate Board Opposes 'Red Tape'

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The National Association of Real Estate Boards declared today it is "violently opposed" to pending legislation which would set up a long-range housing program.

Herbert U. Nelson, the association's executive vice president, said in a statement prepared for the Senate banking committee that the Wagner-Elliender-Taft bill is "dangerous, x x x misleading and fails to accomplish the purpose for which it was presented."

Instead of pushing such a program—designed to encourage construction of 15,000,000 homes by 1958—Nelson urged that Congress get rid of building controls and abolish the National Housing Agency.

Declaring that the industry "wants to, can and will" build homes, Nelson said:

"Just cut the red tape and watch us go."

Valley Forge, Pa., March 27 (AP)—Work will start within several weeks on the restoration of additional units of the Revolutionary War encampment at Valley Forge Park, the Park commissioners announced today.

The state legislature now is considering an appropriation of $140,000 for the purpose.

Among the units to be restored in the 2,933-acre park are Fort John Moore, General Knox's blacksmith shop and 74 soldiers' huts. The observation tower atop Mt. Joy will be replaced.

G. Edwin Brumbaugh, authority on colonial reconstruction, is preparing the final plans for the project.

Proposes Bill To Standardize Coal

Harrisburg, March 27 (AP)—Rep. William J. Stonier (R-Lackawanna) proposed in the House today establishment of standard coal sizes for anthracite and penalties for the sale of marketing of any hard coal so designated that does not meet the standards fixed by law.

Stonier's measure would set up the standard sizes of broken, eggs, stove, nut, pea, buckwheat and rice coal and provide that its ash content cannot be more than 11 per cent for broken sizes to 13 per cent for buckwheat and rice. Slate content would be limited to 1½ to 4 per cent depending on the size.

Dealers marketing coal as standard anthracite which fails to meet the standards fixed by the measure would be subject to fines up to $300 or 29 days imprisonment for first offense and $1,000 or six months imprisonment for subsequent offenses.

Both mine operators and dealers also would be obligated to keep records of all standard anthracite sold.

COURT ORDERS UNION TO END WORK STOPPAGE

Philadelphia, March 27 (AP)—Two common pleas court judges have ordered a local AFL-Drivers union to end a work stoppage that has virtually closed Philadelphia's $125,000,000-a-year wholesale produce market on Dock street since mid-January.

The jurists—Frank Smith and Eugene V. Alessandrini—in a preliminary injunction issued yesterday ordered Local 929, Produce, Fish, Poultry and Oysterman Drivers and Helpers union (AFL) to cease interfering with produce merchants and car-lot receivers in the area.

The injunction specifically ordered union officers to "rescind in writing, addressed to all the members of the local, all existing orders or directions to engage in a work stoppage in violation of the collective bargaining agreement." The injunction said the stoppage violated a union contract signed last December.

The dispute began over unionization of approximately 200 girl office employees and prompted a $1,500,000 damage suit filed by the merchants against the union. The damage suit is still pending in court.

The union, through its attorney William A. Gray, said "we believe that such a far-reaching order is contrary to the legal principles established by the appellate courts, and for that reason an immediate appeal will be taken to the supreme court in order to test the validity of the court's conclusions."

USE CORNCOBS TO MAKE NYLON

Oklahoma City, March 27 (AP)—Twelve years of research costing $1,000,000 has resulted in the development of a chemical process for use of agricultural by-products such as corncobs in the manufacture of nylon. Dr. Oliver W. Cass, research chemist for E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & company, announced today.

Cass, in a speech to the National Farm Chemurgic council, disclosed that the use of the products, such as corncobs, cotton seed hulls and the hulls of oat and rice bran, would give a supplemental supply of ingredients needed in the manufacture of nylon.

Nylon originally was derived only from the components of coal, air and water. Cass pointed out petroleum and natural gas are now used along with the coal and that the new development would be still another substitute.

Cass said that a new unit will be built at the Du Pont Electrochemicals Department's plant at Atlantic Falls to produce the chemical.

British Constable Wounded By Bomb

Jerusalem, March 27 (AP)—A British constable was reported wounded in one leg today in a bomb attack on two police cars in front of the Tel Aviv divisional police headquarters.

An official announcement said the cars were just leaving the headquarters in the all-Jewish city on a morning patrol when they were the target of one bomb and a small-arms fusillade. The report added that three persons "believed to be Yemite Jews" were seen escaping toward the waterfront.

Tel Aviv residents were roused by two explosions last night which seemed to come from the Hatikva quarter, Yemite Jewish neighborhood.

Police, after ascertaining that no military installations had been under attack, offered the theory that the blasts might have occurred by accident in a mine factory of the Jewish underground.

VFW Asks Military Handling Of Atom

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars asked Congress today to restore atomic energy control to military authorities, interpreting President Truman's proposal to halt Communism in Greece and Turkey as an admission of international difficulties.

Louis E. Starr, VFW commander-in-chief, told the House Committee on Un-American Activities the proposal to aid Greece and Turkey is a "frank admission that all is not well on the international scene and that a challenge to democracy and freedom has again reared its ugly head."

He urged military control of atomic power "to warn the challengers of democracy everywhere that we mean business."

The VFW held differed with demands by the American Legion and AMVETS that the Communist party in this country be erased.

EARLY SPRING TIME TO SOW SWEET PEAS

Spring flowering type of sweet pea. In most of the United States, where spring comes late and its stay is brief, growing sweet peas is a race against hot weather. The gardener who would win should sow seeds early, and grow a heat resistant strain, which will bloom quickly and give him an abundant harvest before midsummer, with its searing heat.

A sweet pea which prefers heat is yet to be bred, but a heat resistant strain of the giant, wavy-petaled Spencer type known as the spring flowering strain is becoming popular. Many compare it in abundance of bloom and long flowering season with the old-fashioned grandiflora type, which used to be one of the most popular flowers in this country.

New Type Short-lived

When the Spencer sweet peas were developed, having wavy petals and much larger flowers, they were hailed with delight by American home gardeners. They soon discovered, however, that it took longer to bloom than the older strain; and in sections where spring was short and summer hot, it had a brief flowering season.

Early flowering Spencer varieties were then developed, which flowered a month to six weeks earlier than the late Spencer, but had fewer flowers, and bore them in sprays of three. These are widely used by florists for winter flowering.

The spring flowering strain blooms in between the early and late Spencers, but has four flowers to a cluster, and much more abundant bloom than the earliest varieties. Its ability to withstand hot weather is outstanding, being developed by careful breeding.

All sweet peas can be started indoors and transplanted to the garden; and in cold-winter sections the late Spencers should always be planted so for good results.

If sown direct in the garden, then all types should be planted just as soon as the ground can be prepared.

Spake Soil Deeply
The soil should be spaded one to two feet deep, preferably in the previous fall. Sweet peas demand rich feeding. At least a pint of balanced plant food should be spaded into the soil for each 25 foot row.

Guns Became Live Things As Grimy Handlers Fired In Drill-Like Precision

(Ed note: This is the fourth in a series of five articles prepared from a book published in 1890 by Augustus Buell, a member of a cannon company which fought at Gettysburg in 1863. The book describes the experiences of an enlisted man during the battle.)

The Confederates were attacking the battery of six guns located on both sides of the railroad cut along Seminary Ridge.

"Twenty-six years have but softened in memory the picture of 'Old Griff' Wallace, his tough Irish face set in hard lines with the unflinching resolution that filled his soul while he sponged and loaded under that murderous musketry with the precision of barrack drill," Buell wrote in 1890.

"Of the burly corporal, bareheaded, his hair matted with blood from a scalp wound, and wiping the crimson fluid out of his eyes to sight the gun; of the steady orderly sergeant, John Mitchell, moving calmly from gun to gun, now and then changing men about as one after another was hit and fell, stooping over a wounded man to help him up, or aiding another to stagger to the rear; of the dauntless Davison on foot among the guns, cheering the men, praising this one and that one, and ever and anon profanely exhorting us to 'Feed it to 'em'—feed it to 'em!'

Blood And Burnt Powder

"The very guns became things of life—not implements, but comrades. Every man was doing the work of two or three. At our gun at the finish there were only the corporal, No. 1 and No. 3 with two drivers fetching ammunition. The water in Pat's bucket was like ink. His face and hands were smeared all over with burnt powder. The thumbstall of No. 3 was burned to a crisp by the hot vent-field. Between the black of the burnt powder and the crimson streaks from his bloody head, Packard looked like a demon from below!

"Up and down the line men reeling and falling; splinters flying from wheels and axles where bullets hit; in rear, horses tearing and plunging, mad with wounds and terror; drivers yelling, shells bursting, shot shrieking overhead, howling about our ears or throwing up great clouds of dust where they struck; the musketry crashing on three sides of us; bullets hissing, humming and whistling everywhere; cannon roaring; all crash on crash and peal on peal, smoke, dust, splinters, blood, wreck and carnage indescribable.

"And out in front of us an undulating field, filled almost as far as the eye could reach with a long, low gray line creeping toward us, faintly fringed with flame!

Courage And Carnage

"On every side the passion, rage and frenzy of fearless men or reckless boys devoted to slaughter or doomed to death! The same sun that a day before had been shining to cure the wheat-sheaves of the harvest of peace, now glared to pierce the gray pall of battle's powder smoke or to blot the corpses of battle's victims.

"When this desperate work began I had stood close in to the gun in thumbing vent, standing bolt upright according to the letter of the manual, arching my left arm and resting my fingers on the gun. I was wearing my jacket and had the two top buttons buttoned. About our third load a bullet from the enemy behind the fence on our flank tore through the breast of the jacket, making the cloth fly and carrying away the second button from the top. It hurt like the sharp blow of

ASKS SENATE TO RESTORE SS CUT

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Undersecretary of Treasury A. L. M. Wiggins testified today that "satisfactory protection" cannot be given the President and his family unless the Senate restores the House-approved cut in Secret Service funds.

He told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee the 20 per cent slash in funds by the House will force a reduction in the special bodyguard protecting the White House and the President.

He said $757,600 has been cut from the $3,465,100 asked for the secret service during the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

Wiggins also protested the overall reduction of $882,716,750 in funds to operate the Treasury. He made these points:

1. The secret service cut also would be "an invitation to the counterfeiter to engage in widespread operations" since the service has to protect against counterfeiting of around $38,000,000,000 in currency now in circulation.

2. Unless Congress restores the full $2,031,000,000 for payment of income tax refunds, from which the House cut $800,000,000, there will be some 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 returns on hand by next March on which tax will have been overpaid.

3. The $30,000,000 reduction in funds for the Internal Revenue bureau will encourage tax evasion and prevent collection of at least $600,000,000 in revenue, since the bureau will be unable to continue checking "upon three returns out of every 100, as is now the case."

Move To Tighten Mine Safety Rules

Harrisburg, March 27 (AP)—Moving to tighten up mine safety laws, Rep. Harold E. Flack (R-Luzerne) proposed today legislation to halt hard coal mining within 100 feet of abandoned mines that are inaccessible to state mine inspectors.

Aimed particularly at preventing mine explosions similar to that which killed 15 men at the Nottingham colliery, near Plymouth, last January, the proposed law would require designation of the "stop point" on maps of underground workings.

Flack said the measure was requested by the state Mines Department which recently said an inaccurate map resulted in the mining of coal too near an abandoned mine which proved to be gaseous.

He also offered legislation to require weekly inspections of underground workings suspected of approaching gaseous areas.

And we prolonged 'Old Betsy' the rear gun—in the street and stood by to load. John said he was afraid that the Old Man had been gobbled up, but we would wait there a few minutes so as to be able to help him, if necessary. But in a few minutes Johnny Cook came down the road and said that McBride was coming with all of the right half-battery, and that Stewart would soon be along.

"I was astonished by the caution of the enemy at this time. He seemed to be utterly paralyzed at the punishment he had received from the First Corps and was literally 'feeling every inch of his way' in his advance on our front. Riding the swing team on our gun, I kept looking over my shoulder to see him come on, and wondered why he was so cautious, knowing, as I did, that none of our troops were left in the position we had just abandoned.

Things Of The Soil

Common Problems With Peonies
Peonies rank high among popular ornamentals in American lawns and gardens, a role they have occupied for several decades. Of course, such favor rests on well established merits as well as on ease of culture. However, enough serious problems arise each year to keep even the more experienced growers searching for ways to control insect enemies and prevent several widely prevalent diseases.

Botrytis blight is by far the most common disease. It usually appears soon after the shoots come through the ground, with three distinct phases of infection (1) Soon after shoots begin growth they turn black and fall over; (2) Streaks of dying tissue affect the stems after buds form and the buds turn black and fail to open—a stage of disease often called bud blast; (3) Sometimes the flowers develop a rot and many of the peony leaves are infected.

Just as soon as peony shoots appear they should be sprayed liberally with Bordeaux mixture, and the application should be repeated in about a week to 10 days. If the surrounding soil for a distance of a foot or more is coated with the fungicide, better control is obtained. Later spraying is not advisable, else the spray residue will discolor the foliage. Too, the waxy coating on the buds seem to resist later spraying effects. Control after symptoms are visible is largely impossible.

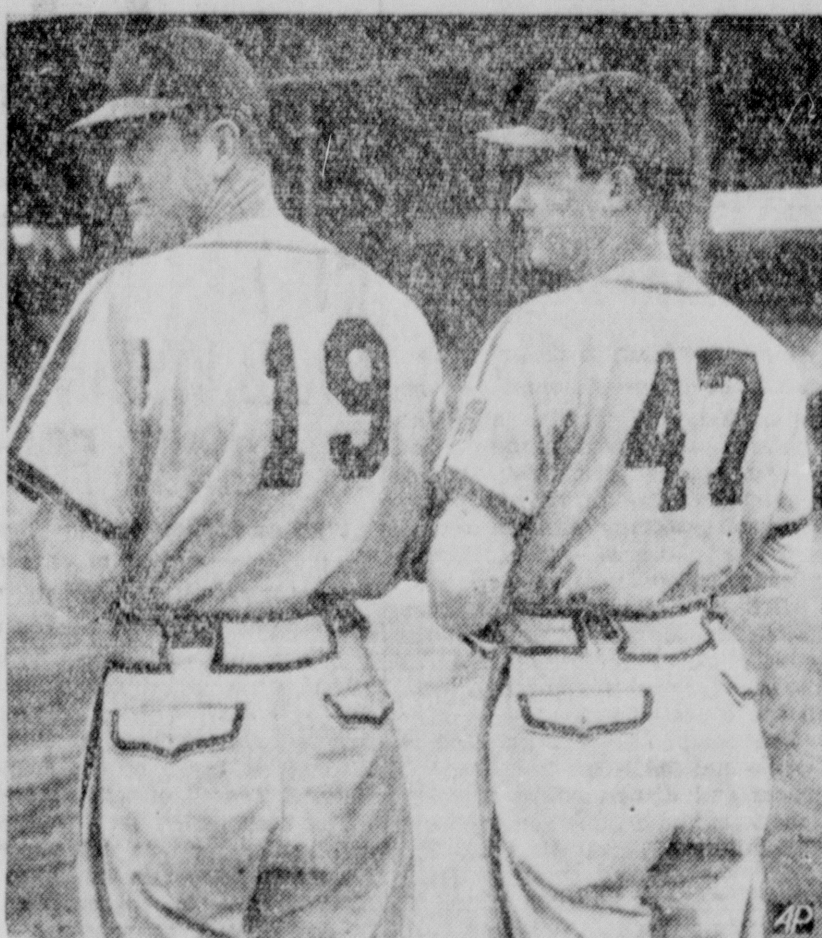

As soon as blighted areas are discovered, the infected plants should be taken up and burned to prevent the disease spreading in neighboring plants. Some varieties of peonies promise resistance to Botrytis blight.

First among peony problems, as indicated by letters from readers each spring to the editor, are plant lice. In fact, this problem is sufficiently serious to warrant a somewhat full discussion of how to keep these tiny sap-suckers from damaging peonies.

In most cases aphids appear on peonies within a week or two after the shoots come through the ground. They may continue their attacks until the blooms open. Growers should inspect their plants daily and when the first lice are seen they should promptly apply a nicotine sulfate spray in soapy water, coating the lice liberally. And the application should be repeated until all the pests are killed off.

For some strange reason ants like to carry certain species of aphids to peonies and protect the lice there, just as a farmer pastures his cows. And for a similar reason, too, these ants feed on a sweet secretion from the aphids, called honeydew. It is usually the frequent visits of ants to peonies that cause growers to complain that ants are destroying their plants. But in such cases the task is to kill the aphids and the ants will soon cease their visits.

Peonies, like asparagus, dahlias, rhubarb and numerous other ornamental and food plants which develop from bulbs, tubers and enlarged underground parts, store strength in their roots after the bloom season. For this reason growers should cultivate and otherwise encourage peony growth until the foliage dies back naturally. To cut peonies off soon after the flowers fade means that the plant's store of strength for its next year's blooms is greatly curtailed. And for the same reason peony foliage should be

Apple Tree Versus Wheat Field

If you ever visit Jeb Crowell's farm, he'll take you right out on that back porch of his and show you his apple tree.

"There," says Jeb, "is nature's noblest creation—fifty years, and bearin' still the finest cider apples in the county!"

But last fall, when a group of us was there, Lud Denny points across the river to his grain fields and says: "There's an even finer sight! Acres and acres of golden grain you can make dozens of appetizing things with—including wholesome, sparkling beer."

Both of them got so eloquent on the subject, that the rest of us worked up quite a thirst; so Jeb goes to the icebox for beer and cider. And when the refreshments come, Lud chooses cider, and Jeb takes the beer!

From where I sit, that's the answer to most disputes. You can talk all you want, but when it comes to tastes and preferences, there's just no argument.

ALLENTOWN HAS VICTORY RECORD WITHIN GRASP

By TOM SHRIVER

Harrisburg, March 27 (AP)—Allentown high's high-flying Canaries need one more victory to equal the record for consecutive state championships in Pennsylvania, and on Saturday night the proteges of Coach J. Birney Crum meet Duquesne high at Penn's Palestra with that objective in mind.

Allentown needs a win over the "Dukes" to equal the record set by Lower Merion in 1941, '42 and '43, and the Canaries are depending on two established stars and three newcomers to carry them to the pinnacle of Pennsylvania scholastic basketball.

In meeting Duquesne the Canaries will be facing one of the strongest teams in state ranks, a team that was good enough to win the western title at the expense of a sturdy band of Bradford Owls.

Wanish And Jackson

Crum will rely for victory on two boys who have carried the Canaries to two straight state titles and three consecutive eastern championships.

At center will be William "Bill" Wanish, who was named as all-state center in his sophomore year and now as a senior is rated as one of the finest pivot men in the commonwealth.

At forward will be Elmo "Willie" Jackson, sensational Negro forward, and the player who rushed back into the contest to save Allentown's title hopes in the game against Catawqua. He tallied the needed field goals that turned impending defeat into a well deserved victory.

These two players will carry the brunt of the Allentown attack, but Coach Crum will depend on several other players to retain the crown that was won first in 1945 and retained in 1946.

Home Floor

In meeting Duquesne the Canaries will be up against a team that has tasted the fruits of victory in the past and a combination that will be anxious to break the hold the east has had on the state championship for five of the past six years.

It was Duquesne that displaced Lower Merion as state champions in 1944 after Coach Bill Anderson's five had chalked up championships for three straight years. It was Duquesne that bowed to Lower Merion in the 1941 finals and now the "Dukes" will be in the state finals for the third time in six years and ready to challenge Allentown's right to the state diadem.

Coach Crum's five will have a decided advantage over the western title-holders since this will be the sixth time during the present season that the Canaries have played on the Palestra floor.

Training Camp Briefs

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Connie Mack said today that Eddie Joost is the best shortstop the Philadelphia Athletics have had since Joe Boley cavorted for the A's back in the pennant-winning days of the late 20's and early 30's.

"He's a good, hustling player," observed the venerable pilot, "and smart." He recalled that when Joost backed up the third baseman the other day and took a hit off his glove for a putout to first, he made a play "we hadn't seen since Chick Galloway and Boley."

Galloway played shortstop for Philadelphia before Boley came on the scene.

"Joost is quick and agile. He stops sharply enough after his initial charge to get 10 or 12 feet in front of the ball and get set for the scoop," Mack pointed out.

Miami Beach, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Billy Herman, Jr., has gone to the Minors at his father's bidding. The son of the Pittsburgh Pirate manager was one of two players cut from the squad and was sent to Uniontown of the mid-Atlantic league. The other was Dewey Soriano, righthander shipped to Indianapolis on option. At the same time, the Bucs acquired Lou Tost from the Braves for slightly more than the $10,000 waiver price.

Bartow, Fla., March 27 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers paid a visit to their farm club, the Buffalo Bisons of the International League, for today's exhibition. Bengel Rookies George Vico, Johnny Bero, Johnny McHale and Clint Conatser starred yesterday as the Detroiters came from behind for a 7-6 victory over the Phillies.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Johnny Lindell, the stand-in for Joe DiMaggio, stood out by belting two homers as the New York Yankees crushed the world champion St. Louis Cardinals 10-1 yesterday. Two other round-trippers were rapped out, one by Tommy Henrich and one by Floyd Bevins. Bevins, who went the longest distance of any Yank pitcher to date, gave up but four hits in seven innings.

To Decide Class B Title On Tuesday

Pittsburgh, March 27 (AP)—Irwin high school of Westmoreland county and Weatherly high of Carbon county will meet here next Tuesday to decide the Class B basketball championship of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association.

The fast-moving Irwin Knights, coached by Don Rose, won the Western regional title last night by interrupting a 24-game winning streak of Karns City high, 44-38. Weatherly fought its way into the Eastern regional championship by a 37-32 win over Wyoming high.

There was little to choose from between Irwin and the Karns City Gremlins at the beginning of their game. The score was tied three times in the first before Irwin pulled ahead to a substantial lead which it built up to 29-15 at half-time. Karns City outscored Irwin in both the final quarters, recovering eight points of the margin, but at no time threatened to overhaul the Knights.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, March 27 (AP)—Walt Kennedy, Tub Thumper for the Basketball Association of America, is walking around in a press agent's dream nd can't figure out what to do about it. . . . Seems an unknown feminine voice on the phone the other day asked if the BBA would be interested in signing the greatest basketball player in Greece. . . .

Walt skeptically explained that each club signed its own players, but later the voice's owner appeared and introduced herself as Mrs. George Mantopolous, an American school teacher and wife of the player in question. . . . What's more, she produced pictures of a handsome guy who'd have bobby sox fans swooning all over the place and evidence that he had learned basketball from an American coach at the American university in Athens and that last year he was named Greece's greatest player. . . . The catch is that George has to have a guaranteed employment before he can enter the United States and no club would sign him on his reputation. . . . "What can I do?" sighs Walt. "What a story! What a Mantopolous!"

SHIELDS AND SHORTS
Doggie Julian, coach of the NCAA champion Holy Cross basketball team, says there's no truth in the report he's planning to move to another school. . . . Bill Essick, the Yankee scout, is spending a lot of time watching his nephew, Doug, who pitches for Southern California. . . . Sammy Sneed, due to arrive from South Africa this week-end, likely will spend a few days visiting his folks in Virginia before going on to the Augusta Masters tournament.

BOOTS AND SADDLE
Admiral Jonas Ingram, new commissioner of the All America football conference and one time director of athletics at Annapolis, tells this about the first Navy-Notre Dame game at Baltimore in 1926. . . . "There were only a handful of spectators and I asked General Hancock (stadium director) what we had to do to draw a crowd. He suggested we stage a horse race between the halves."

Score Coach Method Of Picking Team
Philadelphia, March 27 (AP)—Josh Cody, Temple University basketball coach, says a new method is needed in selecting the National Collegiate Athletic association district two representative in the post-season court tourney.

Cody, speaking at a meeting of the local Basketball Writers association honoring the Philadelphia district's outstanding collegiate player, voiced concern over the present method of nominating the district two participant "because it isn't always fair."

The Temple mentor said the present setup—a committee of three coaches selects the district, two quintet—is handled as well as can be expected. "However, a playoff within the district of the area's four or even eight best teams would be a fairer method of designation," Cody declared. "It would remove the pressure of partiality from the selecting committee."

To Decide Catholic Court Title Tonight
Pittsburgh, March 27 (AP)—Pennsylvania's Catholic high school basketball championship will be decided here tonight in a Class A game between North Catholic high of Pittsburgh, defending titlist, and Philadelphia's St. Joseph.

The contest will be played at 8:30 p.m. at the Gardens.

North high, which defeated Allentown Catholic to win the championship last year, has had a tough season generally but regained top form in the last few weeks to win western honors.

The Pittsburghers eliminated Johnstown Catholic in the Western regional finals of the Pennsylvania Catholic Interscholastic association while St. Joseph was defeating Harrisburg for the Eastern crown.

Cambridge, Mass., March 27 (AP)—Harvard university may have a one armed boxing champion.

Tommy Rodgers of Pittsburgh, who lost his left arm in a railroad accident, won his semifinal bout in the 155 pound class in the first post-war university tourney last night.

The judges unanimously decided in favor of Rodgers over Jim Lord. His affliction forces him to fight from a southpaw stance and Tommy thinks that's to his advantage. "It puts the other fellows off balance. Most of them are righthanders," he says.

Tommy's coach is Tommy Rawson, Jr., a boxing referee who admires Rodgers for his unquestionable courage.

"He can't protect himself very well," said Rawson. "But he moves to his right after throwing a punch. When he punches he leaves himself open but that crab-like movement of his takes him out of range pretty well."

Albany, N. Y., March 27 (AP)—Johnny Evers, 65, former major league star of the Chicago Cubs and Boston Braves, remained in critical condition at St. Peter's hospital today after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage Tuesday.

Hospital aides said there was "no change" in the condition of the second baseman in the famous Tinker to Evers to Chance double play combination of the Cubs in the early part of the century.

Charlotte, N. C., March 27 (AP)—A field of 150 professional and amateur golfers teed off here today for glory and $10,000 in prize money in the Fourth Annual Charlotte Open Golf tournament.

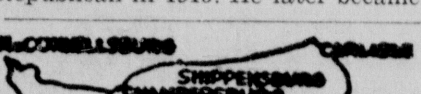

Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., leading 1947 money winner, was installed as the favorite as the linksmen, playing in threesomes, began first round play over the 6,400-yard par 72 Myers Park country club course.

Two former Charlotte winners were in the field. They were E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of York, Pa., winner of the 1944 Inaugural Open, and Bob Hamilton of Chicago, last year's winner.

SNOWSTORM IS HEADING EAST

(By The Associated Press)

A new snowstorm moved rapidly eastward today from eastern Oklahoma toward the Hatteras region of the Atlantic coast where weather bureau forecasters at Chicago said it would center Friday morning.

By late morning, it was snowing over a general area between eastern Kansas and southeastern Nebraska on the west to central Kentucky and northern Tennessee.

The St. Louis area reported six inches of snow had fallen at 6 a. m. (CST), and accumulations of up to four inches were reported in southern Illinois and southwestern Indiana.

The violent wind and snowstorm which earlier this week spread over the eastern half of the country causing widespread property damage and at least 16 deaths, moved into northern Quebec today.

Winds had diminished, but temperatures dropped, Caribou, Me., reporting the nation's minimum of one above zero last night.

ACQUIT HUSBAND
Media, Pa., March 27 (AP)—A jury in Delaware county court deliberated less than two hours before finding Edwin L. Klock, 33, of Chester, innocent yesterday in the slaying of his estranged wife's escort, Wesley Robinson, 35, of Trainer. ## WOULD OUTLAW DISCRIMINATION AGAINST RACES

Harrisburg, March 27 (AP)—Discrimination in employment because of race, creed, color or national origin would become unlawful in Pennsylvania under a bill in the legislature today.

The legislation, incorporating the pledges of the GOP campaign platform, has the complete support of Governor Duff, GOP leaders indicated.

A five-man Fair Employment Practices commission would be established with powers, subject to court review, to impose penalties of up to $1,000 in fines and one-year prison terms for discrimination violations.

The scope of the measure, patterned after the New York law, includes discrimination by employers, employment agencies, labor organizations, schools and in newspaper advertisements.

Five Jobs At $10,000
Commission members, appointed by the governor, would receive $10,000 a year.

Other House bills would: Abolish the Post-war Planning commission and transfer its duties to the State Planning board—Joseph A. Dague (R-Clearfield) and Samuel B. Dennison (R-Jefferson).

Abolish the Allegheny county court, transfer its jurisdiction to the county common pleas and quarter sessions court—T. Emmett Horan (R-Allegheny).

Reduce the eligibility age from 70 to 65 for the payment of old age assistance—W. Stuart Heim (R-Armstrong).

Real Estate Board Opposes 'Red Tape'

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The National Association of Real Estate Boards declared today it is "violently opposed" to pending legislation which would set up a long-range housing program.

Herbert U. Nelson, the association's executive vice president, said in a statement prepared for the Senate banking committee that the Wagner-Elender-Taft bill is "dangerous, x x x misleading and fails to accomplish the purpose for which it was presented."

Instead of pushing such a program—designed to encourage construction of 15,000,000 homes by 1958—Nelson urged that Congress get rid of building controls and abolish the National Housing Agency.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

FAITH AND COURAGE

The essential and fundamental qualities that contribute to our success and happiness are those that all of us know about—but all too seldom emphasize. Faith and courage are two of them.

We must have faith in the first place, and then courage carries us on. No enterprise can win without them. The early pioneers had them both. Tillers of the soil depend upon them. When doubt enters the mind it takes faith and courage to rout it.

Upon what could we depend if we were to dismiss all faith and then lack courage to go on? The dumb animal is guided largely by instinct. Not so the human animal. He must exercise his gift of choice, and put his reason to work. But even they would be of little account did not faith and courage enter the mind to re-enforce them.

All the knowledge in the world wouldn't amount to anything, unless it could be used. It's the use of knowledge, plus faith and courage, that invents things, makes new discoveries, and opens up new vistas, through which the mind can work its way to triumph. Faith and courage are fuel to the soul!

Every day we need this fuel of faith and courage to keep the engine of hope in clear gear. We need to have no fear at all with such equipment. It then becomes a matter of imagination and the will to do. How inspiring is the rise of the poor boy, from tenement or farm, or from some sort of sordid environment, with this faith and courage firmly harnessed to his objective!

I might say that this faith and courage are the bread and butter of life—for they are a thing of life. Where would the world of people be without them? What would any of us do, devoid of them? We owe most of our comforts to them, our enjoyments, and our democratic way of life—imperfect as this latter may be.

Faith and courage are our choicest inheritances, and they are no respecter of persons, as witness the examples of their power in the eminence of those who came from poverty to riches, or to many a high estate. Cling to that faith of yours, and keep it hand in hand with courage!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Just Human"

END OF DREAM GOLF SEASON
The winter golfer by the fire, In dreams, can golfing skill acquire. But he will learn when comes the spring, To dream is not to change the swing.

When blooms again the buttercup He'll find himself still looking up, And aggravated by that look Will be the same old slice and hook.

Once more on greens the keeper cuts He'll still be missing easy putts, On holes he birdied by the grate He'll still be taking seven or eight.

Since dreams give all the skill to win 'Tis sad the season must begin, From winter's dreaming golfers wake To find that ninety's hard to break.

U.S. FEELING AGAINST REDS BUILDING UP

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, (AP)—For 18 months since the war ended the feeling in this country against communism has been building up.

It has grown as Russia's influence in Europe and elsewhere spread.

Now within the past two weeks the feeling has turned into open action to block communism at home and abroad.

Take a look:
1. Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach said the communist party in this country should be outlawed. Congressmen introduced bills to do that.

2. President Truman has asked money for goods and arms for Greece and Turkey to block the spread of communism in Europe and the middle east.

3. Mr. Truman has ordered government employees fired if they are members of the communist party or organizations sympathetic to the party.

Taking a Stand
Congress now is up to its neck in the communist problem. It's considering bills to outlaw the party here and it's working on the aid to Greece and Turkey.

The government action, summed up, says: This is where we take a stand to stop the spread of communism.

It is the most intensive government action against communism since the hysterical "Red scare" that broke out in 1920, after World War I.

So far, now, what is being done against communism is peaceful, orderly, calm. Not so in 1920.

In that year Attorney General Palmer set out on a flaring anti-communist crusade.

The present moves against communism by Congress and the government are being examined and questioned inside and outside Congress.

Questions like these are being asked about aiding Greece and Turkey: Do we stop there? Or, how far do we go in trying to stop the spread of communism?

As to the firing from government employ of people who are communists or are members of organizations sympathetic to communists: Government officials, who have to do the weeding out, have given assurances there'll be no "witch-hunt."

Undoubtedly some communists and fellow-travelers are working for the government and will be fired when found out.

But great care must be taken to prevent injustice to government employees who have innocently become tangled up with organizations they did not suspect of communist connections.

TO AID FAMILIES OF MINE VICTIMS

Centralia, Ill., March 27 (AP)—Families of the victims of the explosion Tuesday in the Centralia Coal company's No. 5 mine will not get immediate aid from the United Mine Workers Health and Welfare Royalty fund, UMW headquarters said, but, a state district UMW official said, they are eligible for State industrial compensation.

Hugh White, president of the UMW Illinois district, said the families would be eligible for $4,800 to $6,600 under the state act, depending upon the number in each family.

In Washington, the union said there was a delay in placing the welfare and retirement fund in operation, and that there was approximately $15,000,000 in the fund through collection of a nickel a ton on bituminous coal mined since settlement of last spring's 55-day strike.

The money for the miners' welfare and retirement benefits is to be handled by a three-man board but Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug has not yet appointed the operators' representative.

After appointment of the three trustees the board will have to set up standards and regulations governing payment of benefits and the union said the extent of any aid to the survivors of the Centralia disaster could not now be estimated.

Ottawa, March 27 (AP)—Meat rationing to Canadian householders ended today.

Meat price controls, slaughtering quotas and meatless Tuesdays and Fridays in restaurants remained in effect, however.

Consumers have been limited to about two pounds of meat a week, depending upon the cut.

TRUMAN TURNS TO BOWLING IN SPORT SEARCH

Washington, March 27 (AP)—President Truman is on the spot. This is a sports-loving nation. Sportsmen vote. So every president tries like fury to be a sports-loving guy. But Mr. Truman's trouble is that his favorite sport isn't popular any more.

In a nation where almost every one rides, Mr. Truman likes to walk. Worse still, he likes to get up early in the morning to do it. Obviously he can't win votes that way.

What to do? What to do? Install Bowling Alley
Mr. Truman always has been an enthusiastic watcher of football and baseball. And since becoming president he has turned to fishing, dutifully. He also has installed a horse-shoe pitching court, rarely used, in the yard.

that bowling alleys are being put in, right in the White House.

Will Mr. Truman, who bowled 44 years ago and liked it fine, be any fonder of bowling than he is of fishing and horseshoeing?

Probably not, say those who know Mr. Truman's devotion to walking. Yes, says Rod Thomas, who headed a nationwide campaign by which bowlers bought $485,000,000 worth of war bonds. Like all bowlers, Thomas thinks if Mr. Truman, whom that ball down the alleys a couple of times, he'll be a convert for life.

"There's something about it that gets you," he told a reporter. A Smart Move?

Was turning bowler a smart political move? "Well," said Thomas, "there are

PRIVILEGE, NOT RIGHT TO WORK FOR UNCLE SAM

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington (AP)—A man can be a member of the Communist party but, if he is, he can't work for the government. Why?

That question may have puzzled some people when President Truman on Saturday ordered the firing of any "disloyal" government employee.

Who is a "disloyal" government worker?

Anyone, under Mr. Truman's rules, who is a Communist or fellow-traveler, that is, who follows the Communist "line."

Why then is the Communist party permitted to exist in this country?

Because, under the constitution, all Americans have a right to freedom of speech and opinion.

Privilege Not A Right

So Communists are protected by the constitution, although there's talk now in Congress of outlawing the Communist party. If Congress passes such a law, the Communists are sure to ask the Supreme court to declare the law unconstitutional.

So then comes this question:

If a man has a constitutional right to be a Communist, wouldn't that right be interfered with if a government employee is fired because he's a Communist?

This is the government's answer to that:

Working for the government is a privilege, not a right. The government is free to decide who shall and shall not work for it.

And that's the ruling of the federal court, as this story will show.

Less Than 100,000

A man named Morton Friedman had worked for the government from 1935 until 1944. Then the Civil Service Commission fired him because it decided there was "reasonable doubt of his loyalty."

The commission said Friedman had been a member of a "Communist-dominated" organization called American Peace Mobilization.

Friedman finally went before the Supreme court which, by refusing to hear him, in effect upheld two lower court's which had in turn upheld the commission.

Friedman's lawyers argued there'd be a government "witch-hunt" if employees could be fired for their political thinking. This is denied by officials of the Justice department and the Civil Service commission.

They say less than five per cent of the government's 2,000,000 employees are likely to be affected by the President's order.

'PEACEMAKER' ROLE FOR U.S. IN PHONE STRIKE

By HAROLD W. WARD

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The government, its wartime powers to seize strike-bound industries fast running out, found itself in the role of peacemaker today in the gathering telephone crisis.

A walkout by 287,000 members of the National Federation of Telephone Workers is scheduled for April 7, the day after Easter—and there are prospects that some radio network programs as well as many telephone services may feel the effect of the strike if it materializes.

Direct management-union negotiations are stalled over the principle of industry-wide bargaining.

Gibson Confers

The independent NPTW wants to negotiate its ten contract demands, including a $12 weekly pay increase, on a nationwide basis. The American Telephone and Telegraph company, nerve center of the sprawling Bell Telephone system, insists that it will bargain only through its various operating companies, with local conditions taken into account.

Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson conferred with A. T. & T. officials in New York yesterday. He was expected to meet here today with President Joseph A. Beirne and other NPTW leaders. Gibson was able to effect a last-minute settlement of a similar dispute a year ago.

Gibson's conciliation gestures were made as the scheduled telephone strike threatened a hit also at the radio networks.

Medge Assistance

Beirne disclosed that the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians (NABET), has reaffirmed its mutual assistance agreement of last year and promised

"cooperation" in any strike April 7.

NABET has contracts with the National, American, and Mutual Broadcasting chains—excluding only the Columbia Broadcasting system among the major networks. Similar CBS workers are represented by the AFL Brotherhood of Engineers.

The radio union, an independent like the NPTW—that is, not affiliated with either the AFL or CIO—also represents technicians and engineers in 57 local stations. Attorney Martin W. O'Donoghue said.

There are about 20,000 syllabic characters in the Chinese language of which about 500 are in common use.

Wine from grapes grown on the fertile slopes of Mount Vesuvius is called Lacrima Christi.

ANOTHER MAJOR WAR BELIEVED NOT LIKELY NOW

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

If your correspondent had a dollar for every time he has been asked whether a major war seems likely to grow out of the Greco-Turkish crisis, he would be able to retire and quit crystal gazing.

However, while these questions have kept pouring in I've been greatly impressed by the absence of any expressions of "fear" in connection with such inquiries. My observation is that the general public is not "afraid" in the accepted sense of the term.

The American people are confident that their country can handle any emergency. Still, that doesn't alter the fact that peace loving folk have a very natural anxiety about any possibility of another world conflict.

Soviets Might Use Force

General Eisenhower assures us that no country at present "would deliberately provoke war." He warned, though, that there always exists the possibility of an incident being precipitated by some "immature nation." While the general didn't pin this specifically to the Balkan imbroglio, we are safe in assuming that it covers this situation.

Washington has stated categorically that America's proposed aid to Greece and Turkey would not include any troops. A lot of people, however, are wondering whether Soviet Russia might intervene with soldiers to help the Greek Communists overthrow the Athens government and seize control of the country.

There's no indication thus far that any such move by Moscow is at all likely. On the contrary that's about the last thing one would expect the Soviet Union to attempt, because it would be an open-and-shut invitation for world war—and the signs are that Russia definitely doesn't want war.

Highly Explosive State

The situation on the Balkan peninsula naturally is in a highly explosive state. For that reason the Big Three—Russia on the one hand and the American-British pair on the other—will do everything to avoid becoming directly involved.

No, I think we may take it for granted that Russia won't make any move in the Balkans or elsewhere which might force somebody to reach for a gun. That is, the Muscovites won't do it now, or for a long time to come, because they aren't prepared for a major conflict.

Having said this, it must be remarked that the danger of smoking cigarettes in a powder factory is that accidents may happen.

CITY FACED WITH MILK 'BOYCOTT'

New Orleans, March 27 (P)—New Orleansians, their milk supply already drastically reduced by a strike of dairymen, were faced today with a boycott called by officers of the Teamsters' Brotherhood (AFL) against stores and other enterprises using milk from New Orleans dairies.

Brotherhood officers said the boycott would affect union locals in New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Lake Charles in southwest Louisiana, and Amite and Franklinton in the Florida parishes strike area.

The strike already has cut this city's daily supply of 62,100 gallons of milk by 80 per cent, according to an estimate of Charles Ball, director of sanitation in New Orleans and residents wondered how much greater a cut would be effected by the boycott of stores which normally handle fresh fluid milk.

Meanwhile, despite orders to the state police to "keep the roads open," the striking dairymen from the Florida parishes (those east of the Mississippi river) continued to halt trucks and trains in their efforts to cut off the supply of milk from New Orleans.

The strike was called Monday after New Orleans dairies had notified producers they were cutting the price of milk with four per cent butterfat from $5.75 per hundredweight to $5.20. Thousands of gallons of milk were dumped from truck and train shipments Tuesday.

YOUTH IS DENIED

Wilmington, Del., March 27 (P)—Danny Norris, 16-year-old reformatory parolee, convicted of first degree murder in the Christmas Day slaying of a Wilmington policeman has been denied a new trial.

However, the court of Oyer and Terminer announced yesterday it is "not ready to pass sentence at this time."

Norris was convicted last February 8 of shooting Detective Thomas Conaty, Jr. An all-male jury recommended mercy.

Mobile was laid out by the French in 1711.

The Strange Returning

Chapter 15
Jeff Irskine left for Yuma the next day.

Linda rode into McCloud with him so that she could bring back the gelding; she promised to meet him in town the following afternoon. He took a bus, transferred at Olla Bend and was in the border town six hours later.

The sun had just slipped beyond its zenith; the thermometer already had climbed relentlessly up above the one hundred degree mark. The town hugged the desert, its low buildings quivering greasily in the filmy heat waves that arose from the main street. When the bus stopped its passengers melted into the shadows as quickly as their tired muscles permitted them to move.

Jeff was grateful for the overhanging sidewalks, a necessity in Yuma. Now they were occupied for the most part by Indians and Mexicans lounging in the open doorways to catch any breath of air that might mistakenly creep through. Wiping his streaming face Jeff headed for the police station.

The front office was empty except for a lone figure in the smart uniform of the Arizona State Patrol. Bent over a magazine, he looked up when Jeff entered and emitted a startled whoop.

"Lieutenant Irskine! Well I'll be damned!"

Jeff grinned. "Hello Whitey. . . I told you we'd meet again some day."

Jeff eyed his ex-sergeant with approval. "I'm glad to see you got back all in one piece. How's business?"

"Slack. Picked up several speeders this morning but the heat gets even then this time of day. You here on business, sir?"

Jeff laughed in spite of himself. "Hey, cut out that sir routine. 'Hell's bells. I'm having a time shaking off my Army habits.'"

"I know how it is—I'd probably do the same if I ran into someone who'd outranked me. Where is the local constabulary?"

Evans gestured toward a back room and Jeff strode over and leaned inside the door. A sweating deputy was changing the ribbon on a typewriter.

"Anyone here know an old prospector named Amos Larabee?" Jeff said.

The deputy nodded. "Mean that old desert rat who's always 'putting the finger on people'?"

The familiar expression made Jeff smile. "That's my man. Where does he live?"

"About two miles out on the desert, east of the old prison. He's a cantankerous old gaffer, has the devil of a disposition. Lives all alone with his burro. We drop in on him every now and then to see that he hasn't dried up and blown away."

"Been out there lately?"

"Yes. As a matter of fact, one of the boys stopped in three days ago. Larabee was all excited over a new digging of his. Insisted he'd make a million this time—he never gives up hope."

"Well, gold fever gets in your blood like malaria when you've been at it as long as he has, I guess. Thanks for the dope."

The deputy's eyes pinned him curiously. "Got business with him?"

"Yes, an affidavit I want signed. He used to prospect with my Dad."

"Oh, Well you're pretty certain meager shade afforded by the shack.

to find him home toward evening. He's too old and cranky to spend a cold night on ton the desert."

Whitey Evans having overheard the conversation beckoned to Jeff. "Look, why not let me run you out there in the patrol car after it cools off?"

"Invitation accepted." Jeff grinned. "I was wondering if I could arouse a taxi driver in this heat."

They went to a restaurant and exchanged war reminiscences over their meal; at four o'clock they headed out of town. It was as hot as before but the shadows were longer. The few trees in Yuma drooped and the earth was the sear rufous color that drew the heat then threw it back to scorch the eyeballs of anyone rash enough to defy it. The Colorado river moved slowly, a sluggish thin ribbon sliding along as viscously as crude oil.

The town slipped behind them and they sped past the imposing crumbling adobe walls of the old Mexican prison. Amos Larabee's shack stood out like a small wart on the face of the desert. A rural mailbox with his name carefully inscribed indicated his property.

Jeff, noting it, smiled, wondering if Amos had ever received anything other than the free manufacturer's samples he had been in the habit of sending for.

There was no sign of life. The shack shimmered in the heat; Amos had repaired some of its more flagrant gaps by tacking discarded license plates over the holes, these reflected the sun unpleasantly.

"Guess he's not home," Jeff remarked and frowned.

Whitey Evans cut off the engine. "Thought I heard something as we drove in here. Listen—"

It came to them both quite distinctly—the lone mournful rasping hee-haw of a burro, followed by an exasperated snort. The men exchanged puzzled glances.

"If his burro is here he is too," Jeff said and got out.

The little animal stood in the meager shade afforded by the shack.

Demands Senate Rein On Greek Aid Setup

Washington, March 27 (P)—A Senate check rein on President Truman's choice of officials to direct the proposed $400,000,000 aid program for Greece and Turkey was demanded today by Senator George (D-Ga.).

George said he will present his demand formally when the Senate Foreign Relations committee gets down to closed-door work, possibly tomorrow, on the measure authorizing financial and limited military help for the two nations in warding off Communism.

"I shall insist that the bill provide for direction of the program by a commission of responsible Americans and that the top men on this commission be nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate," the Georgia senator told a reporter.

This would have the effect, he said, of giving the Senate the final word on personnel to be put in charge of a program which Florentino H. LaGuardia, former head of UNRRA, said yesterday might involve the United States in the Balkans "for a generation."

Jeff's muscles tightened as he strode quickly toward the door of the shack and thrust it open. A wave of warm fetid air seeped out to greet him; his eyes strained through the gloom of the one-room abode and came to rest on the crumpled form of the old man lying on the dirt floor.

"Amos! Amos Larabee!" The name seemed to stick in his throat and even as he said it he knew no answer would ever come from the silent figure.

GOING OUTSIDE STATE FOR 'FAT

Pittsburgh, March 27 (P)—Pennsylvania ice cream makers will go outside the state this year for 45,000,000 pounds of butterfat, Dr. R. C.

ed today by Senator George (D-Ga.).

George said he will present his demand formally when the Senate Foreign Relations committee gets down to closed-door work, possibly tomorrow, on the measure authorizing financial and limited military help for the two nations in warding off Communism.

"I shall insist that the bill provide for direction of the program by a commission of responsible Americans and that the top men on this commission be nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate," the Georgia senator told a reporter.

Phone Properties May Be Seized

Trenton, N. J., March 27 (P)—Gov. Alfred Driscoll planned today to meet with State Labor Commissioner Harry C. Harper and chairman of the State Mediation Board Chairman Walter T. Margetts to discuss possible seizure of the New Jersey Bell Telephone company in the event of a nationwide telephone strike.

Addressing the 40th anniversary convention of the Ice Cream Manufacturers' Association of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware yesterday, Dayton said:

"Pennsylvania dairymen should be told of the fact that local ice cream makers are forced to go outside the state to buy enormous quantities of butterfat, and perhaps they will make an effort to satisfy part of the demands."

William J. Shaw, vice president of the Breyer Ice Cream company of Philadelphia, said:

"If the ice cream industry is to hold its gains and move on toward its sales goal of 1,000,000,000 gallons, we must spend money, time and effort in promoting the food value of ice cream."

April 7.

Saying "we will make every effort to keep service operating in New Jersey," Driscoll said he believed the state could take over the New Jersey Bell Telephone company under provisions of the state's anti-utility strike act despite the interstate nature of the threatened strike.

Meanwhile, Henry Mayer, counsel for three telephone unions, announced rejection of a telephone company proposal to extend for at least a month contracts which expire Friday.

AUSTIN SPEECH IS EXPECTED TO STIR UN DEBATE

By JOHN A. PARRIS, JR.

Lake Success, N. Y., March 27 (AP)—The possibility arose today that Warren R. Austin's major American policy speech in the United Nations Security council tomorrow might touch off a bitter wrangle on an official level with Russia over President Truman's plans to aid Greece and Turkey.

An informed source said the set-up for the speech certainly would not preclude a Russian reply, although it might not come immediately. Some observers believed Russia would use this opportunity to launch another attack here against Greece.

One source speculated that any decision to break Russia's top-level silence on the American aid program, designed to halt the spread of Communism, would be made in Moscow only after careful examination of Austin's statement.

May Be Soviet Reply

However, this source did not exclude the possibility of a Soviet reply in the Security council, possibly after an initial statement is made in Moscow by the Russian government.

Moscow newspapers already have attacked the American plans, virtually accusing President Truman of bypassing the United Nations and acting contrary to the principles of the World Charter.

Austin returns to New York today from a week-long round of conferences in Washington. There the American representative to U. N. talked with Mr. Truman and others on a concerted effort to soothe disappointment in some United Nations quarters over the fact that the President acted without prior reference to the world peace-keeping agency.

Accidents in homes killed 34,000 Americans in 1946 compared with 33,500 killed in traffic accidents.

VAST MANHUNT UNDERWAY FOR M. BORMANN

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Berlin, March 27 (AP)—An intensified and widespread manhunt, backed by the U. S. State Department, is under way for the condemned Martin Bormann, missing deputy of Adolf Hitler. It was disclosed today.

Pictures of the shadowy Nazi bigwig have been produced and distributed by the state department to its embassies and ministries in Europe, South America and elsewhere.

Bormann, missing since the end of the war and condemned to the gallows in absentia by the international military tribunal at Nuernberg, never has been proven dead. On the contrary, he frequently has been reported seen alive at scattered places. None of these reports has been substantiated.

Hundred of Reports
To make the lookout for Bormann more systematic, the state department requested T. J. Dunnigan, of the American military government's political administration here, to obtain a good likeness of him for reproduction and distribution from Washington.

"This action was taken," Dunnigan said, "because we have been receiving hundreds of reports that Bormann has been seen here or there throughout Europe. None of these reports have yet proved concrete and we may be looking for a dead man but we wouldn't want to chance missing a bet if he is still alive."

"So we want people to know what he looks like, for he was less publicized than the other top Nazis and was a man who preferred to work powerfully behind the scenes rather than bask in the limelight." Dunnigan declared that most of the reports about Bormann being seen had come from Southern Europe, especially Spain. The embassy in Madrid is to receive a particularly large consignment of Bormann's pictures.

CHINESE MOVE TO SEVER REDS IN MANCHURIA

Nanking, March 27 (AP)—Gen. Fu Tso-Yi's north China army pushed westward today, apparently toward a junction with nationalist units in Suiyuan province which would seal north China communists off from Red forces in Manchuria.

Fu's troops, well-rested after months of comparative inactivity which followed their capture of Kalgan, Chahar province, were reported to have taken Tsouyun, 130 miles to the west in northern Shansi province. Late reports said the army was advancing toward Yuyu, 25 miles northwest of Tsouyun.

While Fu attacked communist towns in Shansi, other government forces continued to fan out from Yanan, fallen Red capital city in neighboring Shensi province. A dispatch from Sinking (Sian) said Nationalist cavalry under Ma Hung-Kwei, posted along the border of northwestern Shensi, made a surprise assault on Tingpin, 117 miles northwest of Yanan.

The main nationalist force had driven 48 miles northwest from Yanan, this report said.

An unconfirmed report in Chinese newspapers said Gen. Chou En-Lai, No. 2 communist and the Reds' chief negotiator, had fled to Kolan, 200 miles northeast of Yanan. Thousands of communist troops were said to be massed at Kolan.

Fighting flared again in Manchuria, where communists were reported attacking Hailung, 50 miles southeast of Changchun, capital of Manchuria.

Amos Eckert advertised "The leader in latest styles in hats, shoes and gents' furnishings." S. J. formation you can give on cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower, brussels sprouts, rhubarb, horseradish, and several kinds of berries," and "any information on getting ladino clover started in orchards and what is the best killer to get rid of poison ivy and honeysuckle around apple trees which twist around trees and extend to the outer edges of limbs in some cases."

This letter was rather a large order, but no request is too difficult for the "ag" editor, and all the information asked was promptly forwarded.

In one case, the writer enclosed 25 cents in postage to pay for the information. The stamps were promptly returned with this statement:

No Charge For Service

"We are returning the extra stamps you sent us, as there are NO charges for any services we render our readers. It is to pass along such assistance that we employ an agricultural editor."

An Idaville woman wrote to ask what to do about the white worms which infested the stems of her house plants and the gnats in eggplant, cabbage, tomatoes and peppers. The letter answering this reader's request, furnished not one, but two methods of getting rid of the pests.

The following reply from the agricultural editor is typical of hundreds:

"We are glad to pass along the broccoli growing information you request. If a fairly large planting is planned, seed should be sown under glass between late January and late February and seedlings later grown in individual pots or bands in a coldframe."

"Being resistant to light frosts, broccoli, like cabbage, may be set out in its growing place even before the last expected frost."

"If you plan but a few plants, we suggest you buy them and set them out by late March or early April. Of course, these exposed plants should be covered over threatening nights."

"If there are ANY questions you wish to ask on this or any other gardening subject, do not hesitate to write us whenever we can assist you."

Plenty Of Eggs For Easter Bunny

Harrisburg, March 27 (AP)—The Easter bunny will find an ample supply of eggs on hand when he begins filling Pennsylvania's Easter basket this year.

The state Department of Agriculture reported today that egg supplies are "plentiful" and that prices continue to show a downward trend.

Those who are planning to boil eggs for Easter coloring and insist upon having them fresh, will do well to buy now or early in Easter week and keep them in the refrigerator, the department advised, explaining that shells can be removed much easier from eggs a week old than from fresh eggs.

Ham to go with eggs for Easter Sunday breakfast is in fair supply, and chicken will be plentiful except for the lighter and heavier weights, the department added.

'No Chance' For 78 Men Trapped By Mine Blast; 33 Are Known To Be Dead

SENATE ORDERS INVESTIGATION OF MINE BLAST

By CHARLES WHALEN
Centralia, Ill., March 27 (AP)—The twisted and broken bodies of 16 miners were brought to the surface from the Centralia Coal company's No. 5 mine this morning, increasing to 33 the number of known dead in an explosion Tuesday and leaving 78 still trapped in the pit and given no chance at all by a mine rescue squad leader.

A heavy snow fell over the grim setting as rescue squads, after working through the early morning hours, brought the second group of dead miners from 540 feet below the ground. There were only a few persons at the pit as the bodies were placed in ambulances and taken to a temporary morgue in a nearby bus garage. Last night 16 bodies were removed to the garage. Earlier one miner removed from the mine on Tuesday died.

An unidentified rescue worker said that the bodies of the 16 brought from the pit today were twisted and bruised and clothing on some were burned, indicating they had been nearer to the explosion than the 16 miners who were found last night.

May Be 111 Dead

As the death toll mounted, with a rescue leader predicting it would reach 111, company officials said rescue attempts would be pushed, "we're not going to give up."

The toll of 111 dead predicted by William J. Rowekamp, rescue leader and recording secretary of the Centralia Local of the AFL United Mine Workers whose members worked the mine, would rank the disaster as the greatest in the nation's coal fields since 195 lost their lives in 1928 at Mather, Pa.

The company presented a revised total of the number of miners who had been in the mine at the time of the blast. Vice President W. P. Young said 142 men had been in the mine and 31 had been removed alive. Earlier he said 151 had been below and 30 had been rescued alive.

Use Mule Power

Opinions varied widely as to the length of time that would be required to complete exploration of the more than 3½ mile tunnel, 540 feet below ground, in which the trapped men had been working.

Driscoll O. Scanlan, an Illinois state mine inspector, said because of slow progress it might take a week to probe to the end of the seven-foot high passage. Mule power was being used in preference to machinery for fear of electrical sparks detonating gases collected in the workings. Rescue workers wore gas masks. Side diggings off the east-west passage were boarded up to assure better ventilation for rescue workers.

However, a federal mine inspector who asked that his name not be used, said the squad of 30 who worked grimly through the night had "checked all but two entries on the east-west passage" and said he believed the men still unaccounted for were in these side passages.

Allege Code Violations

Meanwhile there were these other developments:
1. In Washington the U. S. Senate ordered an investigation of the disaster after Senator Brooks (R-Ill.) asserted there had been violations of safety codes under federal administration. Soft coal mines generally have been in government possession since last spring. At Centralia Vice President Young of the coal company withheld comment on the Senate investigation until he had been more fully informed.

2. Rowekamp made public a letter the union local had sent to Governor Dwight Green of Illinois a year ago asking the governor "to please save our lives, to please make the (state) Department of Mines and Minerals enforce the laws (at the mine) x x x before we have a dust explosion."

Governor Green's office said in a statement that such a letter had been received and that the governor had requested the department concerned to give it "full and complete consideration." The governor also released a report to him, from the committee named by the state department to investigate charges made in the letter, which related that "the complaint sounds a good deal worse than it really is."

Cite Inspection Report
3. Circuit Judge Ralph L. Maxwell said in a statement he would instruct the Washington county grand jury to conduct an inquiry to determine if any criminal negligence was involved in the explosion. The jury will meet next April 14.

4. A state inspection of the mine made a week before the disaster showed the mine was "not adequately rock dusted," that dirty haulage roads should be cleaned and sprinkled and ventilation increased at various points. The inspection report also stated recommendations of previous inspections had "not been complied with and should be complied with."

Young of the coal company said in answer to this that "we have been working on these recommendations. Some can be accomplished in a few days but others take several months, which accounts for their appearance in several reports."

FBI HEAD DOUBTS WISDOM OF BILL OUTLAWING REDS

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, March 27 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover's "grave doubts" of the wisdom of outlawing the Communist party all but clinched today a Congressional committee decision on that hot, Red issue.

"I would hate," Hoover said, "to see a group not deserving the category of martyrs made martyrs by some law which might later be declared unconstitutional."

Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.), told reporters later the House committee on un-American activities must "give a great deal of weight" to Hoover's ideas. Nixon said legislation to outlaw the Communist party "won't be approved as it is presently written."

And he implied that no bill to outlaw the party will be approved.

Threw Away Subpoena
The FBI chief testified to the committee late yesterday on bills to wipe out the party.

Eugene Dennis, party secretary, also tried to tell the committee in a statement that the bills are unconstitutional. He didn't get a chance.

In a short, rough and tumble appearance before the committee, Dennis refused to give his right name, was ordered curly from the room, and was handed a subpoena to return April 9. Dennis tossed the subpoena to the floor.

Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-N. J.), told reporters: "We are going through with this case in no uncertain way. He is technically in contempt now. He refused to answer questions of the committee."

FBI Has Dennis Record

Both Hoover and Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the committee, read off half a dozen names they said Dennis had used. Stripling told reporters Dennis was born in Seattle in 1905 as Francis Eugene Waldron.

Rep. Nixon questioned Hoover about the names.

"Well, he has a number of them," the FBI head said.

"Obviously he has a good reason?"

"That is very true, Congressman."

"You have a complete record on him?"

"A very complete record on him, both criminal as well as subversive."

"Fight To Finish"

Stripling told the committee Dennis used other names in getting fraudulent passports and in Com-

LITTLE RELIEF FROM STORM IN WESTERN PENNA.

Pittsburgh, March 27 (AP)—Western Pennsylvania, buffeted by galelike winds the last three days and hit again by a fuel gas shortage, got only moderate relief today from one of the most destructive March storms in recent years.

Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. joined two other Pittsburgh gas companies in suspending gas service 100 per cent to industrial users, bringing the weather idle in the district to an estimated 20,000 at 300 factories.

Officials of the Tennessee Gas & Transmission Co. at Houston, Tex., denied reports of a "bad leak" in the 1,700-mile line by which its gas moves to Western Pennsylvania and other points. The company said there was some "minor trouble on the line but no break" and that a "crew is at work."

Winds Up To 90 M.P.H.
Earlier reports had indicated trouble in the neighborhood of Paducah, Ky., which might have threatened further shortening of gas supplies in the Pittsburgh area.

Gas companies here said little relief from the shortage might be expected before tomorrow and then only if the weather improves. The forecasts were for "not so cold" today and "slightly warmer" tomorrow.

Weather observers said the slow abating of winds which sometimes reached a velocity of 90 miles an hour would continue today. Late yesterday the sustained wind velocity in most localities was not over 30 miles, with an occasional 50-mile gust being recorded.

No Flood Threat
Rivers rested harmlessly here yesterday, well under the 25-foot flood level, inundating only the Water street parking wharf along the Monongahela. The weather bureau saw no flood threat in snow which fell in the last three days.

Highway conditions were reported much improved although 50 to 90 per cent of the rural highways in northern counties and some main roads were closed by drifts ranging up to six feet.

New snow totalled one to five inches. In some northwestern areas 17 to 18 inches of accumulated snow lay on the ground.

Bus service on Pittsburgh-Buffalo routes, suspended because of drifts, was resumed. Buses to Cleveland

URGES STUDY OF WAR TENSIONS AMONG POWERS

Philadelphia, March 27 (AP)—In an admitted "bold and practical challenge," a woman delegate demands the United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) give priority study to the "tensions conducive to war" between Russia and the United States.

Mrs. W. D. Sporborg of New York, member of the national conference on UNESCO as a representative of the General Federation of Women's clubs, flatly asserted yesterday at up such a commission with the proper surveyors to honestly and objectively study the tensions between these two nations, Russia would join UNESCO."

However, William Benton, assistant secretary of state, and Milton S. Eisenhower, chairman of the commission, later told a news conference that the proposal was premature.

"UNESCO couldn't very well take the step without the cooperation of Russia, and Russia isn't a member," Benton asserted. "After all Secretary of State Marshall and his staff of 100 now in Moscow are doing a pretty good job of studying Soviet tensions."

Eisenhower declared that "by no means is the need for understanding the group's final meeting that "there's no sense in our not facing the situation realistically."

"I'm not talking about any one incident or even a series of incidents, for everyone of us knows that although the shooting war is over, the battle of the peace is going on apart in our world."

REDS LOST GOOD OPPORTUNITY IN DENNIS 'FUMBLE'

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The Communists have booted a beautiful chance to present their case to the American people.

Eugene Dennis did the booting. He's party secretary and a top Communist leader. The way he did it made no sense to me or other newsmen.

He had two tries at presenting his party's case. He did it so badly that, in the end, a roomful of newsmen walked out on him.

Dennis came here from New York to testify before the House committee on un-American activities. He asked permission to testify and got it.

Had Fine Opportunity
The committee is considering bills to outlaw the Communist party. It had been hearing a stream of witnesses, all opposed to Communism.

Dennis had the chance of being the only spokesman for it. He came prepared with a 19-page statement, and copies to hand out. By talking to the committee, in front of a swarm of newsmen, Dennis could have outlined his party's views to millions of newspaper readers.

It's customary at a Congressional committee hearing for a witness to give his name. Dennis said his name is Eugene Dennis.

The committee asked him if that is his real name. Dennis tried to duck the question.

Then Robert E. Stripling, committee investigator, said there was evidence that Dennis had used a number of names in connection with "fraudulent" passports. (Stripling later said Dennis' real name is Francis Waldron).

Charged "Plot"

But when Dennis kept on refusing to tell his real name, the committee dismissed him. So he never got around to reading his statement.

Dennis said later the committee's insistence upon learning his real name was a "plot" to keep him from reading his statement.

Instead of getting his party's case across to the American people, he turns upon himself a cold, questioning spotlight which asks: what goes on here?

Immediately after being dismissed by the committee, Dennis called a news conference in his hotel room. About 12 or 15 newsmen showed up.

Dodged Again

He stopped all questions in the beginning and began to orate at such length that one newsman asked: did you call us here to make a speech or hold a conference?

In 1937, Dennis said, he went to China when the Japanese invaded Manchuria so he could help the Chinese people and the "American people, to prevent a Pearl Harbor." He said he went to China as a representative of the "American people. At once he was asked who appointed him a representative. He fumbled with that question, too. But he said:

"You'll excuse me if I got into China by formal and informal means."

He ducked again when asked if he went to China on American pass-

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Teamsters Union Plans April Strike

Pittsburgh, March 27 (AP)—Teamsters union spokesmen said today their group is prepared to strike about 600 western Pennsylvania beer distributors April 10 and has filed strike notices with federal officials.

Commenting on the 172-day old jurisdictional beer war between the teamsters and the CIO-Brewery Workers union, an AFL official said:

"We have tried to get relief and redress in the courts of western ports and, if so, what name he used. At last he was asked point blank: Will you, for the last time, get down to cases and answer this question: What's your real name?

Dennis still ducked. Fed up, the newsmen walked out.

This to me—at a time when the Communist party in this country is very much on the defensive—was the worst job of public relations I've ever seen.

$20,000,000 AAF B-36 IS SAVED BY EXPERT PILOTS

Fort Worth, Tex., March 27 (AP)—The Army air forces' $20,000,000 B-36, heralded as able to "carry an atomic bomb to any inhabited region in the world and return," is safe to fly another day.

Although the plane's massive right landing gear was damaged, Test Pilot B. A. Erickson and Co-pilot Gus Green nursed the air giant to a smooth stop on the Fort Worth Army air field last night as hundreds of soldiers and other spectators cheered.

Two hours earlier, the huge plane, world's largest land bomber, had disgorged 12 of the 14 men aboard. A stiff wind caught their parachutes and tossed them over a wide section of the rolling hill country west of Fort Worth. Six of the men were injured in landing.

Pilots Landed
Balancing the great bulk of the machine so that its weight bore chiefly on its undamaged left landing gear, the pilots rolled it to a gentle stop at 6:20 p. m. It settled slowly on the right wheel, where a strut to hold it in a straight downward position had failed.

An official of Consolidated-Vultee Aircraft corporation said the pilots had "saved a $20,000,000 plane," by handling it so "delicately" that no damage was done.

The company said that while subsequent planes of the same type would cost from $2,000,000 to $2,500,000, the original represented a cost of $20,000,000 in research, engineering and production costs.

EYES OF THE LAW

Newcastle, Del., (AP)—Patrolman Francis J. Hewlett, Newcastle's one-man night police force, can lay claim to having "the eyes of the law."

Seated at his desk, he telephoned Delaware state police headquarters five miles away.

"Listen," he said, "two guys just broke into a grocery store right across the street. They can see me, so if I make a move they'll scream."

For 10 minutes Hewlett "stayed put." Then state troopers rushed into the grocery. The burglars ran out the back way—right into the arms of two policemen covering that end of the building.

CONTESTANTS

Sponsored by the American Red Cross in the Far East, the "Star Your State" contest provided occupation troops and civilian employees of the Army and Navy an opportunity to compete for more than 200 prizes offered by the military for suggested social and economic improvements in home states. Here a nurse, a serviceman patient, and a Red Cross girl discuss contest ideas at Clark Field, P. L.

Offers Bill On Free Bridge At Capital

Harrisburg, March 27 (AP)—A bill to build a $4,000,000 free bridge across the Susquehanna river at the state capital was put forward today as "one of the answers" to the toll bridge problem in Pennsylvania.

The measure to appropriate motor funds for the purpose was introduced in the Senate yesterday by Sens. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) and M. Harvey Taylor (R-Dauphin) who backed previous legislation to free the last ten toll spans in the Commonwealth.

"If we build a free bridge here it might be easier to buy the toll bridges," Wade said.

The State Supreme court found unconstitutional a 1945 law appropriating $7,000,000 of motor funds to buy all the remaining toll spans.

Approve Changes In Estate Laws

Harrisburg, March 27 (AP)—The Senate judiciary committee has given the go-ahead signal to bills which would modernize Pennsylvania's estate, wills and interstate laws.

The measures, already house-approved, would increase the surviving spouse's allowance to $10,000 where there is no will and cut off inheritance by those more remote than first cousins.

The bills were drafted by the committee on decedents' estates laws of the assembly's joint state government commission.

ADVICE TO DIABETICS

• Beware of patent medicines advertised as cures or remedies for diabetes! They often are not reliable. Diabetes was first recognized about 1552 B.C. This was about the time of Moses, or 200 years before the birth of King Tut. Ever since that time, at intervals, some faker comes up with a cure. A dependable treatment for diabetes was discovered only twenty years ago. It will not cure the disease, but it will enable the diabetic to live a normal life. The discovery is known as Insulin. Your doctor knows all about it. If he finds it necessary in your case, we can supply it in just the right strength.

WOULD OUTLAW CLOSED SHOPS IN THIS STATE

Harrisburg, Pa., March 27 (AP)—Insisting that "a man's right to work is as fundamental as his right to strike," State Senator James S. Berger has introduced a bill in the Pennsylvania legislature which would outlaw closed shops.

"I consider a closed shop an un-American practice," Berger told a reporter. The Potter county Republican is chairman of the Senate's Labor and Industry committee.

Berger's measure would make it an unfair labor practice in Pennsylvania "to require membership or non-membership in a labor organization" as a condition of employment.

Would Void Contracts

Employers and unions or their officers would be prohibited from agreeing to any contract requiring employees or applicants for employment "to join, continue their membership in, form or assist labor organizations."

Berger said the legislation would be enforced by the state Labor Relations board.

A companion measure introduced by Berger would make contracts with closed shop agreements unenforceable in Pennsylvania.

A similar measure was offered in the House by Rep. Warner M. Depuy (R-Pike), whose measure also would bar the picketing of strike-bound establishments by persons who are not employees.

Educational Program

Other new labor legislation to reach the legislature included a proposal for establishment of an educational program on industrial and labor relations at the Pennsylvania State college at a cost to the state of $250,000.

Sponsored jointly by Sens. James A. Getz (R-Allegheny) and Elmer J. Holland (D-Allegheny), the bill proposes an initial expenditure of $75,000 by the state with the remaining $175,000 becoming available when a similar amount is provided by labor and industry.

Holland said the program could be conducted through the college's extension service and would acquaint labor and industry with each other's problems.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of filtering the poisons and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about a pint a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisons to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, hot urine, loss of sleep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty urination with smart or aching burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney troubles that are out of your mind from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
